

MEXICAN WAR CLOUDS DARKEN AS CARRANZA'S NEW DEMANDS PASS UNHEEDED BY U.S. ARMY

DE FACTO HEADS DEMAND NO MORE AMERICAN TROOP
MOVEMENTS BY FUNSTON—BORDER IN EXCITEMENT
AS ADDITIONAL AND RUSHED PREPARATIONS FOR EVENTUALITIES ARE MADE—OFFICERS HAVE ORDERS TO DISREGARD CARRANZA WARNING AND PURSUE ALL
BANDIT GANGS.

U. S. WITHDRAWS ALL BUT ONE CONSUL FROM INTERIOR OF MEXICO

United States Diplomatic Representative at Mexico City Only One Remaining—Carranza Says Crossing Border Will be Declaration of War by United States—His Troops Moving Northward Towards Boundary—New Bandit Chase
Opens by U. S. Troops Simultaneous
With Demands of Carranza.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

BULLETIN.
El Paso, June 17.—General Carranza has thrown down the gauntlet to United States in his advice to General Pershing, that any troops let east, west or south would be regarded as a hostile act, every preparation was being made along the border today for eventualities.

BULLETIN.
U. S. Withdraws Consuls.
San Antonio, June 17.—The arrival at Laredo today of General Hanna, consul general at Monterey, developed the fact that the state department ordered both him and J. R. Silliman, consul at Saltillo to the American side of the river. The withdrawal of these two consular officers will leave the American government with no consular representatives at interior points in Mexico except an agent at Mexico City.

BULLETIN.
Carranza Marches North.
Laredo, Tex., June 17.—A well informed Mexican arriving here from the interior of Mexico confirms reports that more than 5,000 Carranza troops have passed through the hundred and ten miles south of Laredo going northward.

Funston Watches Bandits.
San Antonio, June 17.—General Funston and his staff gave careful attention to the activities of outlaw bandits along Mexican border, but for greater interest in the attitude being assumed by the troops of the defacto government, General Parker, at Brownsville, made a brief report of the latest manifestation of outlaws near San Benito and Gen. Hanna reported the continuation of the search for bandits that raided the cavalry camp at San Ignacio, but it was evident at department headquarters that greater significance was attached to doing of Carranza's troops than to those of bandit leaders.

Will Disregard Warning.
General Ricourt's warning that the crossing of the international boundary by American troops for any cause whatever would be regarded as an over act by the United States and will be the cause for an attack by the defacto government troops did not deter the American authorities from the search for bandits will continue and whenever a "hot trail" is found, leading into Mexico the Americans will not hesitate to follow it. The border has been instructed that the crossing of the international line will not be delayed by reports. They have the authority to cross without waiting for special instructions.

Ready for Move.
General Funston's army of almost 10,000 men has been disposed along the border, that the swift punitive action would be taken if invited by any over act. Carranza's threat to attack General Pershing, if the American troops force east or west or south, was less than a declaration of hostilities by Mexicans, since it may be necessary at any time for the leader of the big punitive expedition to send detachments in pursuit of outlaw bands that may be menacing their outposts.

Precautions Taken by General Bell.
El Paso last night in holding all American troops ready for action were similar to those taken at every border point opposite which was displayed at Juarez because of asked detachments in pursuit of outlaw bands that may be menacing their outposts.

Execute Carranza General.
El Paso, June 17.—Reports that General Garza, Carranza commander of northern Chihuahua, had been put to death, on arriving at Mexico City, charges of treason for having conferred with General Pershing, was actually reported today in a message received at Mexican consulate here from General Obregon, Carranza's minister.

Chase Bandits.
Brownsville, June 17.—It was reported to army headquarters here today that a troop of the third cavalry, Lieutenant A. T. Newman, had struck a "hot trail" of Mexican bandits, north of Brownsville. These bandits were supposed to have been the same who attacked United States soldiers near San Benito last night.

New Raid Reported.
Laredo, Tex., June 17.—Texas rang-

MEXICAN PAPER TELLS OF BIG TEXAS REVOLT

AROUSES PEOPLE WITH REPORTS OF REBELLION OF NEGROES
TO SECURE SOCIAL, RECOGNITION WITH WHITES.

CALLS U. S. A TYRANT

Report Reads "Negroes, Seeking, by Force of Arms to Break Slavery of Fantastic Sons of Uncle Sam."

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

San Antonio, Tex., June 17.—Texas is in the throes of a revolution led by negroes who are seeking independence from this state and complete equality with the whites, according to a special dispatch from Saltillo, Coahuila, published June 15 in an extra of "La Voz de la Patria" at Piedras Negras. Copies of the Mexican newspaper were received here today.

Following is the dispatch:
"Saltillo, Coahuila, June 15. Special to La Voz de la Patria. Travelers arriving here from Laredo, Tex., bring the news that the revolution in Texas has been inaugurated anew and with greater strength."

"The banner of the revolt is the independence of that state and the equalization of the negro race."

"The revolutionists, who are known to be in large numbers, proclaim the equality of race not only for the negro, but for all colors, and are seeking by force of arms to break the chains of slavery and evil pride of the ignorant sons of Uncle Sam. This revolution, which is composed of elements strictly Texan and which in no way compromises Mexico, supports, according to the travelers, the plan of San Diego which seeks the complete separation of the state of Texas."

"The revolutionists, who, as we said before, are in great numbers, have already blown up many trains, and torn up great stretches of track."

"The leaders of this revolution which has been renewed with such savage ferocity are unknown."

STRIKE AT OAKLAND LEADS TO ONE MURDER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Oakland, Cal., June 17.—M. F. Moray, a union steward, was shot and killed today when strike riots broke out on the waterfront. Four men have been arrested in connection with the trouble.

HUGHES SILENT AS TO PREPARATIONS FOR HIS VACATION

Republican Presidential Candidate
Will Take Rest at Summer Home
Before Opening Campaign.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, June 17.—Charles E. Hughes, republican presidential candidate, who returned to his home here last night from New York, spent most of today making preparations for moving his family to a summer home before he starts on his first real campaign. Hughes was seen early today in his custom and was in a motor car, driving his car himself. His first callers were the newspapermen to whom he declared he was not going to say anything on political affairs, and declined to say whether he had seen the statement made by George W. Perkins in New York last night, regarding negotiations for the restoration of good feeling between progressives and republicans.

MABLE SLAWSON MARRIED TO GAYLORD J. DAVIDSON

Miss Mable A. Slawson and Gaylord J. Davidson were married this morning at eight-thirty, the Rev. Father Goebel performing the ceremony. The bride was charming in white and bridesmaid and was given away by her father, Mr. J. M. Davidson. The groom was in pink. Wilmarth Davidson was best man. After a wedding breakfast at home, the bride's parents the happy couple left for a short trip after which they will be at home to their friends at 403 Madison street on and after July 1st.

BRITISH SOVEREIGNS MELTED DOWN IN U. S.

Nearly Ten Millions Arrive Since August and Are Poured Into Bars at Philadelphia Mint.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Philadelphia, June 17.—Sums of British sovereigns have been shipped across the Atlantic during the past six months and most of this melted gold has been melted at the Philadelphia and other mints into bars and stacked in the sub-treasury and the mints.

Approximately $10,000,000 in coin has arrived at the local mint in the last few days from Canada, $2,500,000 arriving yesterday from Ottawa.

The stacks of gold in the mint contained 16,300 bars, each one being worth about $7,000.

CRANE TECH, CHICAGO SCHOOL, TEACHER SHOTS SELF TODAY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, June 17.—Professor Moore, a brother-in-law of Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, and a teacher in Crane Technical high school, committed suicide today by shooting himself while on the wooded island in Jackson Park.

THE "EIGHTEEN" COME TO IMPEACH TO DAVIS

MARIAN'S BIRTH PARTY FRIENDS TESTIFY AND GIVE LIE TO DEAD GIRL'S CLOSEST CHUM TODAY.

JOSEPHINE LIKED WILL

One of "The Bunch" Startles Court
Room By Charging Davis Girl a Third Love Angle of Youth.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Waukegan, June 17.—The state department today brought a bevy of eighteen year old girls to impeach the testimony of Josephine Davis in the trial of Wm. H. Orpet for the murder of Marian Lambert.

Eighteen of these girls, all eighteen years of age, attended Marian's eighteenth birthday party of February 6, three days before her death in Helms' woods, at Lake Forest.

Marian Seemed Happy.
The first of the girls to take the stand was Berce Wells. Over the objections of the defense, the witness testified that Marian seemed happy at the party. She did not see her cry, said Miss Davis, in her revised testimony.

"So far as you know, were Josephine and Marian alone at any time during the party?" asked States Attorney Davis.

"Not that I know of."

On cross examination Attorney Potter asked:

"Did Marian always appear gay and happy?" asked Potter.

"I wouldn't say that—she just seemed happy."

In attempting to find out if Marian and Josephine had been alone together, Mr. Potter brought out the answer that the guests were "all over the house."

Denure miss in unadorned blue came next. She smiled innocently at Mr. Davis when asked her name, and responded in a clear unadorned voice.

"Florence Russell."
She was born at Racine, Wisconsin, seventeen years ago. The witness and two friends spend the night of the party at the home of Anna Paulson, who always had done so, was unable to stay.

"Did you see Josephine Davis take Marian aside, into a room?" asked Mr. Davis.

"Witness said that Anna Paulson cried because she could not stay at the party."

"And what did Marian do?" asked Mr. Davis.

"She just appeared natural."

"Were you on intimate terms with her?" asked Attorney Potter.

"No, sir."

"You and Marian talk of Orpet after the party?" asked Potter.

"Yes, Marian said she heard Orpet was engaged to Celeste Youker. She said Josephine had written Orpet about it, but had received no reply. Marian didn't know what to think of the report."

Marian Expected Orpet.
According to the witness Marian rather expected Orpet would come to see her. She said she didn't know whether to see him or not, but was inclined to think she would so she could ask him about Miss Youker.

"Did she say anything else that it was a clandestine affair?" resumed Mr. Potter.

"You have recollected quite a few things since you said there was nothing more. Do you recall anything MORE?"

The girl's voice had grown steadily weaker and the "No," she returned was almost inaudible. Then, from the depth of her memory she brought this which set those who heard it to buzzing.

Josephine Liked Orpet.
"Marian expected Orpet," said Orpet, that's why she was always coming to see her, (Marian)."

Marian, the witness said, confided that the rather enjoyed seeing Orpet and.

Once "to spite him" she walked home from Sunday school with her teacher.

She said she knew that Will would "come around," said the witness.

The Sunday school teacher, Miss Minnie Ramsey, was the next witness. Miss Ramsey had seen Marian practically every Sunday for three months, and once a month at social gatherings at the church.

Marian was unusually gay and happy at all times," said Miss Ramsey.

"I never saw Marian when she wasn't happy except at that moment," said Miss Bishop.

She did not see Marian and Josephine alone together, but she had not kept her eyes on them all the time.

There were two beds in the room where the four girls slept after the party. Miss Bishop and Miss Smith slept in one of these; Marian and Miss Russell in the other.

While the latter pair talked of Will Orpet, the witness said Miss Smith felt asleep. Miss Bishop overheard nothing of the conversation.

"How long were you on intimate terms with Marian?" asked Attorney Potter.

"A year."

"Did she ever tell you that she feared she was in a delicate condition?"

"No, sir."

WAR FRONTS SHOW GREAT ACTIVITY ON VARIOUS FRONTS

RUSSIA CONTINUES ITS DRIVE INTO THE GERMAN-AUS-TRIAN LINE.

HEAVY NIGHT FIGHTING

Reports Show Decided Renewed Activity on Part of Allies and the Central Powers.

Rome, June 17.—Italian troops have carried the Austrian positions of Malga Fossatta and Monte Magaria, between the Frenzel valley and Marcesina according to an official statement. The Italians took 202 prisoners and captured six heavy guns and four machine guns.

Tells of Fighting.
Berlin, June 17.—General Von Lindequist, who has engaged the Russians in a battle in the Stokhod and Sty sectors, says the official statement today.

The statement adds that parts of the army of Count V. G. Kuchner are engaged in battle with the Russians to the north of Przewicka.

Ships Torpedoed.
Copenhagen, June 17.—Two large German steamships were torpedoed in the Baltic last evening, according to Swedish fishermen, who said they saw the vessels sink after violent cannonading.

Violent Night Fighting.
Paris, June 17.—In the course of last night Germans attacked French positions at Avocourt, near Verdun, says an official statement by the French war department. In the region of Le Mort Homme there was an intense bombardment.

The attacks, after a violent bombardment of Hill No. 425, to the east of the Thann, French infantry, the statement adds, penetrated first and second lines and brought back a number of German prisoners.

Defeat Russ Cavalry.
Berlin, Wireless Sayville, June 17.—Austro-Hungarian troops south of the Dniester river, in Galicia, defeated a Russian cavalry force on Thursday, according to official statement given out by Austro-Hungarian headquarters.

The statement also announces new battles have been started on the whole Volhynian front.

The text of the Austrian statement follows:

"South of Dniester our troops repulsed the enemy's cavalry. Farther to the east, we were only small engagements in this district."

"West of Viswoczky Russian attacks against our positions are in progress. Our troops have repulsed 400 Russians remained in the hands of our troops. Near Ternopol there were no special events."

In the whole Volhynian front new combats have been started. Near Stokhod and the Sty several enemy attempts to cross the river failed. The enemy as usual suffered heavy losses."

British Retreat.
Constantinople, June 17.—British troops attempting to cross the lower Saphra river, called upon to retreat to retreat in disorder after a six-hour battle, says Turkish official statement issued today. The British left 180 dead.

SOCIAL DEMOCRATS IN MEET AT RACINE FOR FALL ELECTION

Meet to Select Ticket For September
Primaries—Milwaukee Man Temporary Chairman.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Racine, June 17.—The state convention of social democratic party convened here today for the purpose of selecting a ticket to place before voters at the primary election in September.

The session came to order at 10:30 with F. W. Rehfeld, state secretary, of Milwaukee, in the chair. There were over 100 delegates in attendance including nine women.

Following a brief address of welcome by Mayor C. W. Thielen, the convention elected E. T. Melms of Milwaukee as temporary chairman, and Rae Weaver, of Beaver Dam, as temporary secretary. Later on motion the temporary officers were made permanent.

Committee on credentials and rules were appointed, made report and same were adopted.

Robt. Schuffenshauer of Milwaukee, was elected assistant secretary and Gilbert Poor of Milwaukee was chosen sergeant at arms. A committee on platform headed by Victor L. Berger of Milwaukee, was then appointed.

The committee on resolutions will make its report this afternoon and their promises to be a long and heated debate, following. The question of changing the name of the party from social democratic party to socialist party will come before the convention floor as to the amendment of the constitution of the party. This matter, will, however, have to be submitted to referendum before the changes may be authorized.

KEEP PENN OPERATING IS MANAGER'S PLEA

General Manager of Road Asks For Volunteers in Case Railroad Men Decide to Strike.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Philadelphia, June 17.—General Manager of the Pennsylvania railroad, today appealed to the 16,000 employees of the company's lines east of Pittsburgh, asking for continuance of their loyalty and calling for volunteers to maintain the service in the event of the railmen strike.

NOTED GERMAN AVIATOR IS REPORTED TO BE KILLED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
London, June 17.—Captain Boelke, the champion German aviator, who received an autograph letter from the Emperor recently complimenting him on his success in bringing down French aeroplanes, is believed to have been killed in an aerial combat with the French aviator, Roger Bihiere.

COONEY SENTENCED FOR MAXIMUM TERM

TEN YEARS IN STATE'S PRISON IS PUNISHMENT FOR ASSAULT UPON TEN YEAR OLD GIRL.

GIRL SOBS OUT STORY

Testimony Regarding Perverting
Crime Taken Today, After Which Judge Maxfield Imposes
Heavy Penalty.

Ten years at hard labor in Waupun, the maximum sentence, was the punishment meted out this morning to William Cooney of Marinette by Judge H. L. Maxfield when the prisoner was arraigned for sentence for assaulting Stella Breiby, a ten year old girl, on Monday night. Testimony was taken today before the court to present facts of the case, and when Cooney finished his story the evidence taken was so depraving and offensive there was no doubt that Cooney would be given the full sentence of the law for his inhuman crime against the defenseless child.

Sobbing Girl on Stand.
Little Stella Breiby went to the stand, with her mother vainly trying to stop her crying and sobbing. She told the court that she was ten years of age—a most serious attempted assault. The story told by the girl was identical with that which she told the jury last night when Officer Thomas Morrissey raced out of Mineral Point avenue and caught Cooney with the crying and abused girl.

Cooney made but a feeble effort to defend himself. The even story was so conclusive and so implacable that neither District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie or the attorney appointed to appear for Cooney offered any suggestion to the court or made a recommendation. Cooney said his wife had died and he had three children, who lived in Marinette, and that he had no money for three years.

The defendant appeared to be somewhat sub-normal. He wore dirty working clothes, overalls and jacket. He gave his nationality as Scotch-Irish and his age as thirty-one years. Cooney swore that it was the first time he had ever been arrested in his life, the first time he had ever been in a trouble. In another place he swore that Monday was the first time he ever got intoxicated, but the testimony was lightly regarded.

Tyrol Girl Testifies.
Lillian Tyrol, aged ten years, the little daughter of a miner, was called to the stand by Cooney with the Breiby girl, first took the stand. She qualified to take the oath and on the stand showed surprising ability in testifying. She said that three weeks ago Cooney led the two girls to the pasture on Mineral Point avenue both were crying and afraid of the man.

She said that Cooney, who was drunk, jerked her away and dragged her along with him, she said.

The only defense offered by Cooney was that he was drunk, and after taking the oath, he said that he was drunk, the stock yards his mind became a blank until Officer Morrissey placed him under arrest. District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie called Captain Morrissey to the stand. The officer testified that Cooney was intoxicated and insisted that he was in a sobbed condition when the arrest was made a short time after the assault. Rev. Wm. Norton, police officer, Chief of Police Champion, William Kemmeyer, and Anton Wunder, at whose home the girl was taken, all testified that Cooney did not appear to be drunk at the time he showed signs of having indulged in intoxicating liquor to any extent.

Charles Sutherland and Cooney were the last two witnesses to be called. Cooney's testimony was more in the nature of his life history. At the close of the examination the attorney for the defense, realizing the hopelessness of the case, simply rested on the mercy of the court.

No Mercy for Criminal.
"This man Cooney deserves no mercy," said Judge Maxfield. "He has committed a crime which has brought shame to his family and to his children. I take this time to say to his children, mothers to better safeguard their children, young or old, for this case positively shows the danger that confronts every mother."

Cooney on the stand broke down and cried for several minutes, and during the time the magistrates was at the desk ahead of him, tears came into his eyes. He took his sentence without showing any visible signs that he knew the stern fate that awaited him at Waupun.

Sheriff Chamberlain announced that the prisoner would be taken to the state's prison early next week, probably Monday morning, but desiring to hold the examination, the court arraigned Cooney this morning, when there were only a few persons present in court.

BRITISH DESTROYER SUNK IN COLLISION

Thirty-One Members of a Crew of Seventy Are Saved—Wreck of Eden Last Night in English Channel.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, June 17.—The British destroyer Eden, has been sunk. Thirty-one members of the crew were saved. Three officers are missing.

The Eden was sunk in the English channel last night after a collision. This announcement was made by the official press bureau.

The British destroyer Eden displaced 1,000 tons, and carried a complement of seventy. She was 100 feet long and had a speed of 26 knots an hour.

JAP GUNS BIG AID TO RUSSIAN CAUSE

Effectiveness of Japanese Ordnance
Responsible for Slav Successes
Recently in Galicia.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, June 17.—A dispatch to Central News from Petrograd says much of the effectiveness of Russian artillery in their great Galician drive is due to use of big Japanese guns. These guns are said to be more powerful than any that the Russians have had heretofore, and are charged with shells filled with a new explosive, the destructive power of which is terrific.

BIG OVATION FOR JEFFERS AT MADISON

JANESVILLE MAN, CANDIDATE FOR SENATE, MAKES VIGOR-OUS KEYNOTE SPEECH.
—BIG AUDIENCE.

ATTACKS LA FOLLETTE

Personal Ambition Alone Had Dictated
Policy of Senior Senator, He Charges.—Raps Wilson's Foreign Policy.

Malcolm G. Jeffris, republican candidate for United States senatorial nomination, was given an ovation on Friday evening in Madison that has seldom been awarded a political speaker who invaded the camp of the enemy. Between fifteen hundred and two thousand persons filled the vast auditorium of the University of Wisconsin to the keynote speech of the Wisconsin senatorial campaign and the first words of praise of the national republican ticket.

Really when the demonstration started when the Rock county contingent arrived in Madison at five-thirty and marched from the Northwestern depot, with waving banners, some hundred and seventy-five persons. An hour later the Stoughton and Edgerton contingents arrived on a special train headed by the Stoughton Band and the Rock county delegation, the University of Wisconsin club and the Dane County Republican club, with two bands, formed a procession some four blocks long and marched to the gymnasium, where thousands of persons lined the walks. Each marcher had an American flag, and it was an impressive sight.

The majority of the Janesville delegation had dinner at the Capitol House while Mr. Jeffris was given honor at a dinner at the Park. Forty minutes after the address was finished the Janesville, Edgerton, Stoughton and Madison contingents returned for home on a special. The Stoughton band was on board and played continuously from Madison to Stoughton; the four contingents of Stoughton, Edgerton and Madison sang songs. Jeffris made a speech, and the party arrived home at one o'clock.

In his address Mr. Jeffris did not fail to make bold and pointed attacks on La Follette, and the following excerpts from his speech will give a tabloid idea of what he said:

"Let us stand together as one nation and one people, regardless of where our ancestors came from."

"President Wilson has sent many notes, but even San Domingo no longer considers his ultimatum with respect."

"We should be prepared to stand on our own feet and be prepared, not only to protect, but to enforce, our rights against any and every nation in the world."

"Too big, too just and too broad to fight, except it be absolutely necessary to defend or enforce our rights. Adequate defense is money and blood to the last drop necessary to maintain our position in the world as a nation of upstanding men."

"Moral suasion may do in a Quaker meeting, but mistakes, guns and training, battleships, cruisers, submarines and aeroplanes and other equipment of war are necessary to insure refusal to be guided by moral suasion."

"Never in the history of the world has there been such an exhibition of utter incompetency on the part of the administration of a great nation, unless it be under a former Democratic administration."

"I believe in thorough preparedness. I do not believe in preparation by politicians."

"They call me a standpat because I stand pat for the things that have been proven to be for the best interest of the state."

"I believe in gradual growth to be better, rather than make Wisconsin a dumping ground to try out every hair brained theory, creating public office, and seriously increasing state expenses and taxes."

"They apply to us offensive names and reserve to themselves the title of 'reformers'."

"A favorite trick of the thief is to cry 'stop thief!' and thus divert suspicion from himself. The same trick is worked in politics."

"He (La Follette) says he wants the people to control—so long as the people do as he says and no longer."

"Mr. Jeffris was presented to the gathering by the Hon. Charles E. Hughes and 'Cub' Buck, the captain of the 1915 football team, with a few well chosen words. Mr. Buck is president of the University of Wisconsin Republican club and is anxious to study the political situation as they study their books and join the Jeffris organization."

Jeffries Charles E. Hughes.

At the very opening of his address Mr. Jeffris came out strongly for the candidacy of Charles E. Hughes, republican nominee for the presidency, and he declared in no uncertain terms the action of the La Follette delegates at the national republican convention.

He said:

"At the republican national convention, held last week in Chicago, there was placed in nomination for the presidency a clean, able and experienced man—one almost universally demanded by the republicans of the United States. The country is now publican delegates from Wisconsin voted for this candidate from first to last. The majority of the other Wisconsin delegates voted for him on the last ballot, but the state policy makers remained to the end unconvinced to our convention, our platform and our candidate."

Mr. La Follette went to the convention with hope and confidence, do such damage to our cause as his opposition to about everything and everybody could inflict. He was the only discordant element there. His three lone votes among nearly 1,000 made, however, no perceptible impression. There was nominated for vice-president an able man who had before him the task of opposing with credit. Both men stand in the forefront of this country and before the world. A strong republican platform was adopted, the only opposition to which came from a Wisconsin faction. The country having tried the democratic party, is now ready to swing back to genuine republicanism, and in November, we will elect Hughes and Fairbanks. Let us elect Hughes and Fairbanks. Let us

(Continued on page 11.)

Children's Pumps

White, patent and gun metal, one and two straps or the Baby Doll strap. Sizes 5 to 8 1/2, 50c, 65c, 75c and 95c. Sizes 8 1/2 to 11 1/2, 85c, 95c, $1.15, $1.25. Misses' sizes 12 to 2 1/2, 85c, 95c, $1.25, $1.45, $1.65. Big Girls' sizes, 2 1/2 to 3, 95c, $1.15, $1.35, $1.65, $1.95.

D. L. LUBY
D. L. & Co.

HOWARD'S

Dry Goods. Milwaukee St.

CORSETS

Henderson's Special Front Lace Corset $1.50. Henderson and American Lady Corsets in new models, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00 and $3.50. Children's Wash Dresses, light and dark colors, well made, neat trim, sizes 2 to 14 years, 50c and upward.

ONE PRICE CASH STORE.

Bell phone 1080. Rock Co., White 912.
Geo. T. Packard
Piano Tuner and Player Regulator. Janesville, Wis.
Recommended by all music dealers and leading music houses.

Victrolas For Summer Homes $15 to $350

Every summer home should have a Victrola and a good sized list of the latest records. Whiles away time and makes it pleasant for everyone.

C. W. DIEHLS
THE ART STORE
26 W. Milw. St.

To Close Out Several broken lots Overalls and Jackets

Fast colors and old prices while they last.

Ford's
in passing notice show window 8 W. Milwaukee St.

Milton News

Milton, Wis., June 17.—The Milton College Regulars stepped all over the "Old Times" Wednesday. Crandall, though pitching good ball was touched for six hits in six innings. Poor support by old boys gave the College nine their runs which came all in the first inning. West, Randolph, Thorne, Lush and Sorenson wore the college uniform for the last time. Mr. and Mrs. John Wood and their father of Ft. Wayne, Ind., have been in town this week. Dr. E. S. Bailey, president of the Milton College Alumni association came up from Chicago to attend commencement. The graduates of Milton Academy and college now number three hundred and eighty-two. Mrs. D. R. Davis of Jackson Center, Ohio, is visiting her sons, W. K. and C. A. Davis. Miss Fern Croasley who taught at Inwood, Ia., is home for the summer. Miss Akin of Chicago has been visiting her sister, Mrs. V. C. Wilbur. Mrs. H. W. Rood of Madison is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Lowther. Dale Van Horn of North Loup, Neb., captain of the college football eleven, is in town. Mrs. Arthur Prohm of Lucerne Park, Fla., is visiting her mother, Mrs. J. A. Plumb. Mrs. Fred Brenneman of Pardeeville, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Inglis. W. C. T. U. meets with Mrs. H. R. Osborn Tuesday. Mrs. Laphoe of Hammond, La., is here for the summer.

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN TRAIN SERVICE CHICAGO & NORTH WESTERN RY.

Effective Sunday, June 18th, train for St. Paul-Minneapolis now leaving Janesville 8:30 P. M. will leave 8:35 P. M. No change in arriving time at St. Paul and Minneapolis. Trains for Chicago will leave daily at 4:25 A. M., 5:20 A. M., 5:45 A. M., 10:35 A. M., and 7:00 P. M., and daily except Sunday at 7:55 A. M., 9:25 A. M., 12:50 P. M. and 3:30 P. M.; also Sunday only at 9:30 A. M., 3:05 P. M. and 6:15 P. M. Apply to Ticket Agents for full information.

Fine is Paid: Edward Wollin, South Cherry street, paid a fine of five dollars and costs, amounting to $8.35, in the municipal court this week, on the charge of assault. Wollin was found guilty of striking a minor boy, Robert Terwilliger.

KENNETH PARKER IS OFF ON LONG VOYAGE

Sailed This Morning From New York On The Vasaria For Eighty Days Trip To South America.

Kenneth Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Parker of this city, sailed from New York city this morning at ten o'clock on the steamer Vasaria, of the Lamport and Holt line for an eighty day trip to various South American ports. The vessel will touch at Bohia, Rio de Janeiro, Santos, Montevideo, Bennis Aires and Rosario as well as many of the Pat River ports. The line is known as the New York Brazil, Uruguay and Argentine line and is coming into prominence owing to the increased travel to South America. Mr. Parker has just completed his years work at Brown University and will return there to complete his course next year.

In the Churches

United Brethren Church. Richards Memorial United Brethren church.—Corner Prospect and Madison avenues. James A. Robinson, pastor. Bible school at 10:00. H. D. Chak-ton, superintendent. Sermon at 11:00. Junior Endeavor at 3:00. Senior Endeavor at 6:30. Sermon at 7:30. The annual conference C. B. convention will convene Tuesday evening and continue until Thursday noon. The annual W. M. A. and O. T. E. guild convention will convene Thursday at 2:30 p. m. and close Friday night.

First Baptist Church. First Baptist church.—Corner Jackson and Pleasant streets. Clarence E. Lapp, Ph. D., acting pastor. Morning service at 10:30. Sermon topic: "Diagnosis and Remedy." Evening service at 7:30. Sermon topic: "My Everlasting Possession." Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Classes and a welcome for all. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7:30.

Congregational Church. Congregational church. Rev. Chas. E. Ewing, pastor. 9:45 a. m.—Sunday school. Classes for all. 10:30 a. m.—Morning worship. Subject: "Successful Education." Kindergarten for small children of the congregation. 7:30 p. m.—Evening worship. Subject: "Democracy and Christianity." Thursday 7:30 p. m.—Bible study. The public are cordially invited to attend all of these services.

First Presbyterian Church. First Presbyterian church.—Located on North Jackson and Wall streets. Rev. George Edwin Parisee, pastor. 9:45 a. m.—Sunday Bible school. A class for every age. 10:30 a. m.—Morning worship. Theme: "The Testimony of Time." 6:30 p. m.—Young People's Society Christian Endeavor. Theme: "The Influence of Light."

Carroll Methodist Church. Carroll Memorial Methodist Episcopal church.—Corner Franklin and Pleasant streets. Rev. F. H. Brigham, pastor. 9:45 a. m.—Class meeting. 10:30 a. m.—Morning worship. Sermon topic: "A Faithful Sowing." Text I Tim. 1:25. Rev. Andrew Porter. 12:40 p. m.—Sunday school. 6:30 p. m.—Episcopal League. Topic: "Christian Activity According to Holy Spirit Standard." Mrs. Jacobs, leader. 7:30 p. m.—There will be a platform meeting conducted by the laymen of the church. Dr. F. T. Richards will preside. There will be special music and brief addresses by a number of the laymen.

St. Peter's English Lutheran Church. St. Peter's English Lutheran church.—Corner South Jackson and Center streets. Rev. E. O. Hoffmeister, M. A., pastor. Sunday school: 9:45 a. m. Chief service: 11:00 a. m. All are welcome at these services.

First Christian Church. First Christian church.—Corner Milwaukee and Academy streets. Clark Walker Cummings, minister. Bible study and worship: 10:00 a. m. Christian Endeavor: 6:30 p. m. Evening worship: 7:30 p. m. The morning sermon subject will be on "Spiritual Maturity," that of the evening on "The Sublime and Essential part of Christianity." Prayer meeting Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Mr. Cowdry will be the leader.

Christ Episcopal Church. Christ Episcopal church.—The Rev. John McKinnon, M. A., rector. Trinity Sunday. 8:00 a. m.—The Holy Communion. 10:30 a. m.—Morning prayer and sermon. 12 m.—Sunday school. 4:30 p. m.—Evening prayer. Saturday—Feast of the Nativity of St. John Baptist. Tuesday—Meeting of Christ church guild in the parish house at 2:00 p. m.

Norwegian Lutheran Church. Norwegian Lutheran church.—Corner West Bluff and Madison streets. Rev. C. C. Thorson, pastor. Sunday morning services in English at 10:30. Sunday school at 9:30. Evening services in Norwegian at 7:30. All are cordially invited.

Christian Science Church. First Church of Christ, Scientist. Church edifice, 923 Pleasant street. Services: Sunday: 10:30 a. m. Sunday school: 12 m. Wednesday: 7:45 p. m. Subject of the lesson-sermon Sunday: "The Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force." Reading room, 503 Jackman block, open daily except Sunday and holidays from 12 m. to 5 p. m.

St. Mary's Church. St. Mary's Roman Catholic church. First mass, 8:30 a. m.; second mass, 10:30 a. m.; vesper, 7:30 p. m. Rev. Wm. Goebel, pastor.

St. Patrick's Church. St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church.—Corner Cherry and Holmes streets. Dean E. E. Reilly, pastor. Rev. Wm. Mahoney, assistant pastor. Residence, 315 Cherry street. First mass, 7:30 a. m.; second mass, 9:00 a. m.; first mass, 10:30 a. m.; vesper, 7:30 p. m.

BELL-ANS

Absolutely Removes Indigestion. One package proves it. 25c at all druggists.

MANY ACTIVITIES FOR BOYS OF "Y." DURING VACATION

Full Schedule is Made Out for Young Members of Y. M. C. A.—Summer Camp Attracting Manv.

Plenty of activity for the members of the boys' division at the Young Men's Christian Association have been planned for during the coming summer months of vacation. A schedule for the next two and a half months has been arranged and will be followed out. Boys' Secretary H. J. Center will leave for the east Monday, where he will spend his summer vacation. During his absence the rooms will be open as usual and a full program of activities will be carried on. The boys' reading room will be open every day except Monday and Thursday evenings and on Wednesday afternoon. During the closed periods outdoor stunts, including "hot dog" roasts, hikes and short over night outings will be staged. The swimming pool will be open for the different groups at the following times: For the high school fellows, Tuesday and Thursday mornings, 10 and 11 a. m., and Saturday from 3 to 5 p. m., for employed boys members, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings, 8:30 to 9:30 p. m. For the cadet majors, Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock.

The gymnasium will be open for the different classes, not for recreation periods, during the following times: For the high school members, Tuesday and Thursday, 9 and 10 a. m. and Saturday afternoons, 2 to 3 o'clock. For the employed boys, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock; for the cadets and juniors, Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 9 to 10 o'clock. Twelve boys have signed up to go to the annual Y. M. C. A. summer camp at Phantom Lake during the different classes, not for recreation periods, during the following times: For the high school members, Tuesday and Thursday, 9 and 10 a. m. and Saturday afternoons, 2 to 3 o'clock. For the employed boys, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock; for the cadets and juniors, Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 9 to 10 o'clock.

Regular meeting of Janesville Camp No. 127 W. O. W. will meet Monday evening at West Side I. O. O. F. Hall. Meeting called at 8 o'clock sharp. All members please try and attend as there will be work. A. O. Foster, clerk.

Ladies free at the game Sunday.

New Home Undertaking Parlors

Located at No. 15 N. Jackson St., first floor, formerly Presbyterian church parsonage. R. C. Phone 507. Bell Phone 208.

Are You Getting The Plumbing Service That You Really Want?

No matter what the job, large or small, every detail has my personal attention and nothing goes untouched that will contribute to produce satisfaction to you.

CHAS. E. SNYDER
Practical Plumbing and Heating
Bell phone 474. R. C. 746. 12 North River St.

BASEBALL SUNDAY

AT THE FAIR GROUNDS AT 3 P. M.

Havana Stars vs. Janesville Cardinals

The Havana Stars is a strong colored team.

ADMISSION, 25c. LADIES FREE. GRANDSTAND 10c

KRYPTOK GLASSES

THE ONLY INVISIBLE BIFOCAL

EYE COMFORT FOR READING AND DISTANCE

KRYPTOK Glasses are a wonderful convenience to middle-aged men and women who wear glasses. You can see both near and far objects through KRYPTOKS with equal distinctness. Yet KRYPTOKS cannot be distinguished from single-vision glasses.

SAYLES' JEWELRY STORE
R. H. HITCHCOCK, REGISTERED OPTICIAN

HOG TRADE IS SLOW AT SLIGHT DECLINE

Best Prices This Morning Were $9.95 With Receipts of 16,000 Head in Pens—Sheep Steady.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, June 17.—There was a slow demand for hogs at the opening of today's market with $9.95 the best price obtained. Receipts of 16,000 head were in the pens. Sheep trade was steady. Following is the market summary:

Cattle—Receipts 400; market easy; Texas steers 7.85@11.40; western steers 8.50@9.55; stockers and feeders 6.00@8.50; cows and heifers 4.00@10.00; calves 3.50@11.75.

Hogs—Receipts 16,000; market steady; 15c under; light, $9.25@9.80; mixed, $9.40@9.90; heavy, $9.25@9.90; rough, $9.85@9.90; pigs, $7.50@9.00; bulk of sales, $9.65@9.95.

Sheep—Receipts 8,000; market steady; wethers 7.00@8.10; lambs, native 7.50@10.30; spring lambs 8.00@11.50.

Butter: Unsettled; creameries, 25@28 1/2.

Eggs: Unchanged; receipts, 20,623. Fat: Unsettled; receipts, old, 9; new, 18; cars, Mich. Wis. Minn. Dak. white, 1.20@1.25; Minn. Dak. Ohios, 1.05@1.15; Tex. and Okla. triplets, 1.50@1.70; Va. and Carolina bars, 4.50@5.00.

Poultry: Alive, lower; Fowls, 17 1/2.

Cash Market.

Wheat—No. 2 Red, nominal; No. 3 red, nominal; No. 2 hard, nominal; No. 3 hard, 98.

Corn—No. 2 yellow, 75@76 1/2; No. 4 yellow, nominal.

Oats—No. 3 white, 38 1/2@38 3/4; standard, 39 1/2@40.

Rye—No. 2, nominal; No. 3, 97 1/2.

Timothy—5.00@7.50.

Clover—3.00@14.00.

Barley—5.00@8.00.

Pork—22@23.00.

Lard—12.85.

Ribs—12.87@13.47.

Wheat—July: Opening, 1.01; high, 1.01 1/2; low, 1.00 1/4; closing, 1 1/4.

Sept: Opening, 1.03; high, 1.03 1/2; low, 1.02 1/2; closing, 1.02 1/2.

Corn—July: Opening, 70 1/2; high, 71 1/2; low, 70; closing, 71 1/2.

Sept: Opening, 70 1/2; high, 71 1/2; low, 70; closing, 70 1/2.

Oats—July: Opening, 38 1/2; high, 38 1/2; low, 38; closing, 38 1/2.

Sept: Opening, 38 1/2; high, 38 1/2; low, 38; closing, 38 1/2.

Friday's Market.

Chicago, June 17.—Yesterday's hog market after a 10c higher start on speculative account, weakened and closed top-heavy, with 4,500 left over. Big packers were bearishly inclined and asked lower prices.

This week's receipts of swine will reach about 117,000 head, the third smallest week's total since last October. Supplies have been disappointing this month, the total for half of June being 25,000 head smaller than a year ago.

No desirable cattle were on sale yesterday, best offered selling at $10. Packers received about a fourth of the arrivals direct. Sheep and lamb trade

Gifts for June Brides

No jewelry store in Janesville offers such an extensive stock of gifts for brides as does Olin's. See our display if you have a wedding gift to buy.

GEORGE C. OLIN

KRYPTOK THE INVISIBLE BI-FOCALS

Having fitted several hundred Kryptok lenses in Janesville is my best recommendation for this high grade invisible bi-focal lens. Kryptok lenses are a wonderful convenience when properly fitted. In this I make a specialty.

Joseph H. Scholler Registered Optometrist. OFFICE BADGER DRUG CO.

Dr. IRA M. HOLSAPPLE

announces the removal of his dental office from the Assembly Block to Suite 506 Jackman Bldg.

WOMEN'S SUMMER WASH DRESSES

New line just received in all sizes; these come in different color combinations, also the new Blazer Stripe effects; prices

From $1.25 Upward To $15.00

T. P. BURNS COMPANY

We Save you Dollars and Cents.

SHAKE INTO YOUR SHOES

Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes and used in the foot-bath. It relieves painful, swollen, smarting feet and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot-Ease is a certain relief for sweating, callous and hot, itchy, itching feet. Sold by Druggists everywhere, 25c. Always use it to break in new shoes. Free trial package FREE. Address, Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

A Few Smart Specials In Over Wear

Sport Suits in Rose and White, Blue and White, in the new material "Silver-bloom", a wash fabric of unsurpassed beauty.

Priced at $10.00

Wash Skirts in White Gahardines, Fiques, Indian Head, and Crystal Cord, in new models.

At $1.50 to $5.00

Middy Blouses in all white or trimmed with striped material.

At $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00

Pond & Bailey
JANESVILLE FINEST SHIRTING CENTER

Bower City Creamery Co.
S. FRANKLIN ST.
Bell Phone 461. R. C. Phone 373.

The Summer Dessert

No cooking, no standing in a hot kitchen to serve the most delicious and satisfactory summer dessert.

Simply phone us for Perfection Brand Ice Cream

SPECIAL FOR TOMORROW: Orange Pudding and Marsh-mallow Nut in bulk, 45c a qt., delivered. Marshmallow Nut in brick, 40c a qt., delivered.

Idlewile

The most Beautiful Subdivision on Lake Waubesa is nearly one-third sold in the opening week of the sale.

These Lots are High and Dry. Located—One mile from McFarland, six miles from Madison. Railroad station about two hundred feet from Idlewile.

Boat lines running to Madison and return three times daily.

Terms $1.00 Down and $1.00 Per Week

A few $25.00 down then $2.00 per week. No Taxes or Interest for two years. A few reasons why these lots are selling fast. IT IS their Location, Terms, Transportation, Beautiful Scenery and GOOD FISHING WATERS.

Idlewile lies between Edwards' Park and Larson's Park. Come out Saturday and Sunday to our follow up sale, June 17 and 18, 1916.

SCOTT BROS. CO.

514 Trust Bldg., Rockford, Ill., Phone Main 233 or our Lake Waubesa Office.

Audit Bureau of Circulations. Aids Newspapers and Advertisers

ANNUAL MEETING AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS AT CHICAGO.

The annual convention of the Audit Bureau of Circulations of which the Gazette is a member, was held in Chicago recently and the reports received by it from its directors and others showed that the association which is composed of publishers, advertisers and advertising agents, is in a flourishing condition and its growth during the last year has been highly satisfactory to the membership.

The Audit Bureau of Circulations is an organization to which newspapers, magazines, farm papers and trade and technical journals cannot belong unless they are willing to tell what their circulation is, and how it is distributed, how it is obtained, how much is paid and how much is free, and that proportion of it is in arrears. But all this is not enough to prove that publications have the circulations they claim. After the publishers have stated and sworn to it, and the publisher states and swears to it, the Audit Bureau through trained expert examiners makes a searching examination to see if the circulation is correct in all particulars.

The public is familiar with the national bank examinations made by the federal government and is alive to the protection it is assured through federal examinations of the banks.

The principle involved in the Audit Bureau of Circulations is the same. The advertiser and advertising agent derive the same security in investing their money in advertising in publications examined and certified by the Audit Bureau of Circulations that the public is assured of by the federal banks' examination law.

This is for the protection of advertisers and advertising agents against publications that conceal the character or misrepresent the quality of their circulation. It is also for the protection of the honest publisher who might be put at a disadvantage in competing with one less scrupulous.

The Chicago convention recently held was the third since the Audit Bureau was organized in 1914. The meeting was attended by nearly three hundred of the publishers, advertisers and agents of the United States and Canada who are members and the membership represented on a call of the roll either in person or by proxy was 691 out of a total membership of 1,175. Almost 60 per cent of the membership was thus represented at the meeting.

The president of the A. B. C. is Louis Bruch of the American Radiator company of Chicago. In his address to the convention Mr. Bruch said the Audit Bureau of Circulation represented the organized will of the largest single body in this country devoted to the betterment of advertising conditions. This rapid growth was due, he said, to the fact that the practical work the Audit Bureau accomplishes was truly co-operative—all interests—publication, advertiser and advertising agent, being equitably served and the Audit Bureau's findings on its examination of circulations being accepted everywhere as accurate and final.

The old-time method of issuing circulation claims, or partial circulation dialers, or partial statements, compared with the Audit reports of the A. B. C. is like a candle light to the Mazda electric lamp, Mr. Bruch said.

"It has been found after 20 months of trial," Mr. Bruch also said, "that circulation audits are beneficial to the advertisers and advertising agents, because advertising or circulation is now being bought and sold as a commodity, both quantity and quality being established by the Audit Bureau of Circulations."

In the report made to the convention by the board of directors the latter said among other things: "If the Audit Bureau had done no more than give the national advertiser confidence and a feeling of security in the matter of judiciously placing his copy, the bureau would have accomplished that part of its mission which has relation to the advertiser and agent. More money has been spent on advertising during the past twelve months than ever before in a like period, and there can be no doubt that there has been less waste in this expenditure than ever before. This increase in expenditure is in great measure due to the confidence instilled in the mind of the advertiser by the A. B. C. The national advertiser today, in making his appropriations, scientifically studies his field with a confidence which he was a stranger heretofore. Advertisers are more and more relying on the A. B. C. service in placing their business—it has become a necessity."

The directors reported that during the year the total audits of publications completed and sent out was over 800; and that the bureau has thirty-two examiners making audits of publications all over the United States and Canada.

These men are specially trained in a system which analyzes down to a fine point paper mills, postoffice receipts, galley lists of subscriptions and every other detail of the circulation, to guide them in judging and weighing circulation.

Live, up-to-date advertisers are thus able to ascertain from statements made by the bureau that are members of the A. B. C. facts that they want and depend on A. B. C. service just as the credit men in commercial houses rely on companies making credit reports.

It is estimated that there are nearly a hundred million dollars spent yearly in papers that are members of the Audit Bureau for advertising and the publications, members of the organization, represent upwards of 60,000,000 "above board" circulation.

The board of directors also called the convention's notice to the growth of the A. B. C. in Canada. It stated that all the large dailies in Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and Winnipeg were new members and that the Canadian members of the Audit Bureau numbered nearly 100.

The convention re-elected the following officers of the A. B. C.: President, Louis Bruch, American Radiator company, Chicago; vice-president, Curtis P. Brady, Woman's World, Chicago, and A. W. Erickson,

The Erickson Co., Inc., advertising agents, New York; Hopewell L. Rogers, the Chicago Daily News, and Secretary, M. F. Harris, Armour & Co., Chicago.

The board of directors of the Audit Bureau as now constituted consists of the following members: F. C. Grandin, Postum Cereal Co., Battle Creek, Mich.; O. C. Harris, National Lead Co., New York; Emory Cream of Wheat company, Minneapolis, Minn.; C. Debbis, Coco Colo Co., Atlanta, Ga.; William Wrigley, Jr., Co., Chicago; Stanley Claude, Taylor-Critchfield-Clague Advertising Agency, Chicago; Lafayette Young, Jr., Des Moines, Ia.; Capital, Curcio F. Brady, Woman's World, Chicago; Frank E. Long, Farmers Review, Chicago; M. C. Robbins, The Iron Age, New York; Louis Bruch, American Radiator Co., Chicago; W. B. Cherry, Armour & Co., Chicago; W. B. Cherry, Merrill-Soule Co., Syracuse, N. Y.; H. Davis, General Electric Co., Schenectady, N. Y.; L. B. Jones, Eastman Kodak Co., Rochester, N. Y.; H. Squier, Rabst Brewing Co., Milwaukee; A. W. Erickson, The Erickson Co., Inc., New York; Hopewell L. Rogers, the Chicago Daily News; Frank C. Hoyt, the Outlook, New York; Charles J. Jenkins, The Faru Journal, Philadelphia; and E. R. Shaw, Practical Engineer, Chicago.

Russell E. Whitman was re-elected managing editor of the bureau.

SOCIALISTS PUT A PLANK AGAINST PREPAREDNESS IN THEIR NATIONAL PLATFORM

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Chicago, Ill., June 17.—An anti-militarism plank was drafted into the platform of the socialist party at the meeting of the national executive committee here today. The meeting was attended by members of both the old and newly elected committees.

Practically the same platform as was adopted in 1912, with the anti-militarism plank added, was adopted by the committee. It will be submitted at once to the 6,000 local branches of the party for a referendum vote.

In submitting the anti-militarism plank James H. Maurer of Reading, Pa., said:

"The socialist party of America reaffirms its unalterable position against war. More than a year ago this position was taken at the national convention."

"In the present crisis it seems no reason for doing anything that might plunge our country into the ruin which is only too evident in the European nations."

"Had President Wilson warned Americans to keep off vessels of belligerents as Sweden had done and as England had done during the Japanese-Russo war the crisis in our international relations would never have arisen."

Messages were received from Allen Louis Benson of Yonkers, N. Y., the party's candidate for president, and from the vice presidential nominee, George R. Kirkpatrick of New York. They were nominated by a referendum vote the last part of March. Both endorsed an anti-militarism platform.

Among those who attended the meeting today were Victor Berger of Milwaukee, Morris Hillquit of New York, Walter Lanier and Adolph Germer, Mount Olive, Ill.; G. H. Goebel of Newark, N. J.; Emil Seidel of Milwaukee; Arthur Le Scuer of Fort Scott, Kas., and James H. Maurer.

When you need a job—advertise in the want columns what you can do and what you want for your service.

Children's Serial Story

THE PRACTICAL TEST.

(By Paul Holmes.)

"What are you so happy about this morning?" inquired Mrs. Thorngate as her small son, Winsor, appeared at the breakfast table, his face wreathed in smiles.

"I suppose," said Winsor carelessly. "I suppose."

"Humph!" said his father, breaking in upon the conversation for the first time. "I guess it's about time you learned to do a little work, young fellow. You are twelve years old, or will be the twenty-fourth of this month, and you have never done a day's work in your life. When I was your age I was working by the month on a farm, and I milked ten cows every night, too easy and—"

Winsor went on eating breakfast without paying very much attention to his father's speech. He was not particularly worried over it, either, for the reason that he had heard a lecture of this kind almost every time he went to a ball game or asked to go fishing. And nothing in the shape of a calendar in Winsor's room, the days had been checked off for the last two months. On the square of June sixteenth was the penciled number "one." And the numbers led back until March. Yes, this day was Friday, the sixteenth of June, 1916, that it had at last arrived. Winsor could hardly believe his senses. Three long months of vacation spread out before him. What could not happen in three months!

For perhaps the first time in his life, Winsor was in a hurry to go to school. He finished his breakfast quickly, and when he found that the clock registered only fifteen minutes to eight, he was greatly disappointed.

In response to parental orders, he made a few passes at his hair with a comb, shoved a tooth brush into his mouth and sucked on it for a time, and went through the ordeal of having his mother wash his ears and head, with hardly a murmur. Then, at last, the school bell rang and Winsor found great pleasure in telling himself that it was for the last time. The first bell of the last day, and it was ringing for the last time.

He found his cap and took his way down the street, all the while repeating the words "for the last time," "for the last time."

When he reached the first corner, he was halted, and a few minutes later Harold joined him.

"Gee, but I'm glad it's the last day," gasped the newcomer.

"Ain't I though?" cried Winsor. "I been waitin' for this day since last September."

Naturally, as the boys walked along taking together, they did not make very good time. They had only covered half the distance to the school house when they heard the last bell ring.

"Wow!" gasped Winsor. "C'm'on. We gotta hurry."

"They broke into a run, and there are few things that set over the ground so quickly as a young boy when he is really in a hurry. And Winsor and Harold were in a hurry for the reason that their teacher, Miss Lemon, had established a rule that those who were late and had no excuse should receive as many strokes with the ruler as they were minutes late."

When they reached the school house, they were hoping that they were not more than three minutes late, at least, but when they entered the room the clock informed them that it was exactly four and one-half minutes after nine.

"Gee!" Winsor murmured. "That'll give us five hits, an' she hurts, too."

But they were due for a surprise, and a pleasant one. Although the pupils were nearly all assembled, there was no sign of Miss Lemon in the room.

When inspection had shown this to Winsor, he inquired of the room in general, "where's the ben?"

"The ben? Just before the bell rang," volunteered some one in the front row, "an' ain't been back."

"That's good," commented Harold. "Now we won't get ticked."

Lemon entered the room, and there was a worried look about the face.

"Now we must get right to work," said she, tartly. "This is the last session this year, and we have much ground to cover. Unless we do well this morning, I'm very much afraid we won't have the picnic this afternoon."

"Who cares?" murmured Winsor in an undertone.

"Take out your readers," Miss Lemon commanded. Harold, looking at her closely, noticed that from time to time she kept glancing at the door.

When all the students had their readers on the top of their desks, Miss Lemon told them to turn to page forty-eight, and said the Winsor should begin the reading. At that moment the door opened, and a portly gentleman walked in.

"How do you do, Miss Lemon," said the man. "I am Mr. Thomas Burbank, inspector of schools."

"Inspector of schools?" exclaimed the teacher. "In the last day?" Although Miss Lemon was a little surprised, Winsor and Harold guessed that she had known all along that this inspector would arrive.

"Yes, madam," replied Mr. Burbank. "It is rather unusual to visit schools on the last day, I will admit, but perhaps you will pardon this departure from custom. A new idea in school inspection is being tried out by the state bureau, and it is being put to a test. Winsor had remained standing from the time Miss Lemon had called upon him to read, and as his department had long ago placed him in a front seat, he was near enough to hear what the inspector and his teacher were saying.

"You are welcome to try out any new plans, I am sure," said Miss Lemon. "There is a chair over by the organ where you may sit down."

"Thank you," said Mr. Burbank. "But before I sit down, I would like to talk with you a few minutes in regard to the new plan I spoke of. Perhaps we might move a little farther from (the pupils, for it would spoil the whole thing if one of them should hear.)"

Winsor smiled. What secret thing was this which the inspector was going to attempt?

"It has been said," remarked Mr. Burbank when they had withdrawn to a suitable distance, "that the pupils, while learning the lessons so that they can recite them unflinchingly, are unable to put them to practical use. The experiments which have been made so far have proved that in almost every case this is so. In the physiology course, you include what to do in case of poisoning, fainting, drowning, and so forth, do you not?"

"Yes," answered the wondering Miss Lemon.

"Then," stated the inspector, "some time during the morning I will see whether the pupils can put their practical use. If you will contrive to leave the room for a few minutes, I will sink into a chair with a cry to the effect that 'I am going to faint.' What the result is will determine how successful the physiology course is."

Although Winsor had put forth his best efforts to hear what was being said, he managed to hear only a few broken sentences, and to think of the pupils were nearly all assembled, there was no sign of Miss Lemon in the room.

He did not be hard for any observer to see that Miss Lemon was a little apprehensive as to the probable result of the "practical test."

The morning passed as most of the other classes recited as usual, although many were the murmurs of "What a use of havin' classes when the exams are all over?"

Winsor wrote the following note to Harold: "The inspector gink is going to try to slip something over on us. I herd him tell the ben that we didn't no the practical side of his going to see whether we do or don't. Watch him, Winsor."

The boy was exceptionally careful about passing the note, because he knew that there would be exceptional severe results if it fell into Miss Lemon's hands, but it reached Harold in safety. Harold read it, and then grinned at Winsor.

"What have those boys been doing?" thought Miss Lemon to herself, noticing the grin.

The practical test occurred about ten o'clock. In accordance with Mr. Burbank's instructions, Winsor and Harold left the room, with admonitions about behavior during her absence. Then the inspector arose from his chair and walked toward the students.

"I have something to say to you," said he. "As you—Help!" His face became white suddenly, and he staggered. "I'm fainting!" he cried. Then Mr. Burbank sank into the chair at Miss Lemon's desk, throwing back his head and getting black in the face from his efforts to make his face appear white.

"Oh!" exclaimed the school, in confusion. It was their duty to help this man, who might die. They had been taught what to do in case of fainting, but what was it?

"They left their seats in a body, and crowded up, around the 'fainting' man. Of all the pupils, but one boy kept his head. That boy was Winsor Thorngate.

"Get back. Give him air!" he shouted. Then, "Where's there some water for him? We're supposed to throw water on a person that's fainted."

But there was no water handy. Winsor's roving gaze came upon the big ink bottle. Ah! Would not ink do fully as well as water? Of course.

What happened next was not what Inspector Burbank had anticipated.

He was deluged with at least a gallon of black ink. His face was completely covered. His collar was made to look like the blackest night. Instinctively, he felt that his new tailored-to-order suit was ruined—which it was. And as he arose from the chair, there was a look of danger in his eyes. Winsor easily perceived this, and he did not wait for the gurgles and splutterings of wrath which came next.

"You young scoundrel!" hissed Mr. Thomas Burbank.

When Miss Lemon returned to the room a few moments later, hoping against hope that her pupils had passed the practical test, she found to her surprise that the inspector was missing. And also, she did not see the face of Winsor among the disordered school.

"Please, teacher," anner d a small girl, "Winsor went thi the window, and the man did too."

And out of the window, Miss Lemon saw two figures running. And as she watched, the one behind lurched forward and grasped hold of the one in front.

Then back to the school house on the calm wind, came the sounds of groans and wails.

(THE END.)

Deadly Gila Monster.

The gila monster is a clumsy, heavy lizard, though a full-grown specimen is a wonderfully striking object to behold. It is justly famous as one of Mexico's most interesting reptiles, for it abounds all over that country from the border to the Isthmus of Tehuantepec. It is popularly called gila monster because it was once quite common along the Gila river in Arizona.

Temperance Talk

By Temperance Educational League.

Did the Towns Decline?

When North Dakota adopted constitutional prohibition the prediction was freely made by leading newspapers that the towns in the state would decline for lack of revenue from the saloons, and that Minnesota towns just across the Red River, which possess the two states, would profit by North Dakota's loss.

After ten years of no saloons, Fargo had one mile of paved streets for each 75 population, one mile water mains for each 270 population, one mile sewer for each 335 population, city debt of $19.59 per capita, ratio city debt to assessed valuation, 7.3 per cent, city tax ratio, 15.98 mills. Morehead, Minnesota, just across the river, with 76 licensed saloons, had one mile of paved streets for each 3,862 population, one mile water mains for each 702 population, one mile sewer for each 358 population, city debt $44.59 per capita, city debt to assessed valuation, 20.5 per cent, city tax ratio, 23.83 mills.

Save Your Hair With Newbro's Herpicide

Save Your Hair With Newbro's Herpicide

Save Your Hair With Newbro's Herpicide

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Come to the Great
Half Price
Sale

A Sale Like This Comes Seldom.
Read the Savings.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

Another One of Our Famous Half Price Sales

Remember Exactly Half Price For Women's and Misses' Suits and Coats

This applies to every Tailor Made Suit and Coat in cloth or silk, black and colors. EXACTLY HALF THE ORIGINAL PRICES

This Great Sale Begins Monday Morning, June 19th.
Your Unrestricted Choice May Be Had.

The one great sale most eagerly looked forward to by our patrons; a chance to capture the newest and most fashionable suits and coats of the season. Our assortment is so great that everyone can be fitted. Those who have attended our previous sales of this character don't need any urging to come to this sale. Just think what it means to save 50 per cent on high grade suits and coats for yourself or daughter

$7.50 Buys Suits or Coats originally priced at $15.00.

$12.50 Buys Suits or Coats originally priced at $25.00.

$20.00 Buys Suits or Coats originally priced at $40.00.

$10.00 Buys Suits or Coats originally priced at $20.00.

$15.00 Buys Suits or Coats originally priced at $30.00.

$25.00 Buys Suits or Coats originally priced at $50.00.

During This Sale All Children's Coats Go At Half Price.

Come Early and Secure First Pick From This Great Stock

The Janesville Gazette

New Bldg. 200-201 E. Milwaukee St.
Entered at the postoffice at Janesville, Wis., as second class mail matter.
BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENING.

Members of Associated Press.
Member of Audit Bureau of Circulations.
Member of Wisconsin Daily League.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Generally fair tonight and Sunday with much change in temperature.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

The Alumni Association of the State School for the Blind, closed a four day session yesterday, and the one hundred members in attendance, from all parts of the state, returned to their homes today. The association was organized twenty odd years ago, and this is the eighth triennial session.

It is an inspiration to people possessed of all their faculties, to meet this group of men and women and study them collectively, at close range. In spite of the most serious handicap that can come to a life, they are optimistic and the spirit of cheerfulness which inspires them, is contagious.

Here are white-haired men and women who were boys and girls in the school half a century ago, as keenly alive to the welfare of the scholars now in attendance as though they were of the number. But few of them enjoy a home of their own, as they seldom marry, and yet most of them are independent citizens.

A larger class are in middle life, who have graduated from the school during the past twenty-five years. Many of them are enthusiastic workers, making good in some chosen calling. While there are many things that the blind can not do, there are some things which they can do, as well as seeing people, and the aim of the school is to prepare every graduate, whether from the literary, musical or industrial department, for independent man and womanhood.

The problem for the blind boy is not so difficult, as there are more avenues open to him. If they combine business ability with mechanical skill, and many of them do, they make good piano-tuners. A liberal number of blind men have gone out from the school to engage in this kind of work, and the most of them are successful.

Some of the best osteopaths in the state are blind men, who have graduated from the school within the past twenty years and then take a full course in an osteopathic college. Dr. Schuster of Milwaukee is recognized as one of the best osteopaths in the city, and Dr. Parish of Whitewater enjoys an extensive practice.

Dr. Anderson of Oshkosh is a noted masseur. He studied under a local practitioner, the last year he was in school, and when he graduated, entered the Northern hospital to treat the patients under the care of Dr. Gordon's direction. A year later he opened an office in Oshkosh. He is one of the independent blind men of the country and rides a horse all over the city, much to the surprise of people who think that the blind are helpless.

Some of the men in attendance at the alumni meeting are successful store-keepers in the towns where they have always lived. One man told about how he controlled the grain and feed trade, against strong competition, and another how he conducted a general store.

One of the most interesting characters in attendance was Adam Rickert, a man who is both blind and deaf, yet able to talk because he lost his hearing when a lad of ten years. Mr. Rickert supported his mother as a porter for twenty years by carpet weaving. When she died some twenty years ago, he hired a boy and went on the road as a peddler and made good.

His alphabet is the joints of his fingers on the inside of his left hand. He spells out your question as you touch the letters and his intelligent mind grasps your thought before it is half expressed. He is an optimist of pronounced type, an enthusiastic republican and a great joker. He found a wife a few years ago, and she was with him at the alumni meeting. He is a hard man to quarrel with, and they evidently enjoy home life at Portage.

The blind girl is still a problem which all schools for the blind are attempting to solve. But few of them have an opportunity to marry and many of them are only partially self-supporting. The most of them are musicians and a few are successful teachers.

They make good canvassers and some of them are good salesmen, and win a fair measure of success. Some of them excel in the industries taught and if physically strong are able to contribute to their support.

Superintendent Hooper, in his talk to the association, said very truthfully: "We all have a handicap. With the blind it is conspicuous, but no more serious than many weaknesses which afflict humanity."

The blind do not want sympathy, nor pity. All they ask is recognition and an opportunity to work. One of the problems which now confront the old world is employment for the arm of blind soldiers so largely in evidence as a part of the wreckage of war.

This army, represented by tens of thousands, is composed of young men, and men in the prime of life. Blindness to them is a great calamity, which the congenial and never experience. It means discouragement and despondency, and sometimes the death of ambition. They need encouragement and practical help more than any other class.

Mr. McGalloway, an intelligent blind man at Fond du Lac, who has been self-supporting for many years, told the Alumni Association of a man in his home city who accidentally lost his sight two years ago. He was a Norwegian by the name of Peterson, an expert machinist, with a wife and three children.

Blindness to him meant revolution. The current of life was checked and the outlook was so dark that he shut himself up at home, completely baffled and discouraged. In this condition Mr. McGalloway found him, a year and a half ago.

He asked him if there wasn't some kind of work he could do and suggested that by the aid of his little boy he could canvass the city for some useful article and thus employ his time and make a little money, but Peterson said, in broken English, "No," he couldn't sell anything.

Mr. McGalloway said, "I know you can and I would like to have you start out with table salt. Don't decide today, but think about it for a week and I will come and see you again." At the end of the week he found him more hopeful and so he stocked him up and started him out. Since then he has sold twelve tons of salt in and near Fond du Lac. That's what the blind man did for another. It represents the spirit of helpfulness, because it is sympathy expressed in practical ways.

There is nothing of which the general public is more densely ignorant than our state institutions. We pay our taxes and complain about extravagance, with no knowledge of how the money is spent.

The Wisconsin School for the Blind is the smallest of a dozen state institutions. It is safe to say that thousands of Janesville people have never visited the school.

Fifty years ago Mr. Little was made the superintendent, and at his death his wife was elected to fill the vacancy. For the past twenty-five years the school has been a political football under the management of eight superintendents—some good, some bad, and some indifferent.

The present incumbent, J. T. Hooper, was elected five years ago, and is assured of the place for another year. He found the property badly run down, and through liberal appropriations has succeeded in making many improvements which should have been made years ago.

Under his intelligent management the school has grown until its enrollment is the largest in its history. The work in every department shows marked improvement and if the state authorities have any regard for the welfare of the school, as well as the blind population of the state, they will retain Mr. Hooper as long as he can be persuaded to stay.

He combines what is so often lacking in the educator—ability and practical common sense. His aim is to turn out men and women who shall be normal, in spite of their handicap, able to enter active life as self-supporting citizens. His tenure of office is not so secure as time is necessary to work out a definite policy.

It is an old saying that "none are so blind as those who won't see." While the loss of vision is a serious loss, the eyes of the mind are often more brilliant. This thought was impressed at the alumni meeting. The blind of the state numbering some two thousand—represent an intelligent population, and the state school is an important factor. It should be safeguarded by taking it out of politics.

After waiting until the last moment before sending in advertisements and news items, the public finds much amusement in pointing out the errors that those stupid reporters, type-setters and proof-readers make.

The Russians have captured 125,000 Austrians in the last drive, but they have not learned the simple Mexican principle that it is cheaper to execute prisoners than to feed them.

The people who believe in the usefulness of war might explain just what is gained when the heroes like Kitchener are taken, and the shirkers and slackers who skulk at home survive and prosper.

The Daily Novelette

AT THE ELEVENTH HOUR.

—It's all right to be slow but sure, but many a man has missed his train that way.—Prof. Simp.

(Synopsis of preceding chapters: Rugglesby Sithard is a born captain of finance. He started to keep a little pig bank when he was a month old, and at the age of four he cornered all the marbles and cigarette cards in the neighborhood. The day before his father died, he brought home his seat in the stock exchange and gave it to Rugglesby, whose mother's career across the financial sky dated from that day. In startling succession he manipulated corners in oats, cardboard, linseed, wool, sugar, coffee, cotton, and other necessities of life, beating at their own game such giants of finance as Murgleboom, Clevehatcher, Bisket, and Stept. These powers of Wall Street finally combined in self-defense to crush Sithard. Rugglesby puts up a game fight, but by underhand methods, such as disguising himself as a lambs on the floor of the exchange and hiring thugs to puncture certain watered stocks of Sithard's, they finally reduce him to penury, when he is down to his last penny he receives a letter from the British secretary of munitions.)

Chapter 5757.
He tore it open and read: "Dear Sir: We have on hand your offer to supply munitions for the English army, and hereby instruct you to ship us eighty-seven double-X cannon balls."

"Saved! Saved!" cried Sithard, as he hurriedly made out a bill for nine million dollars and twenty-six cents. (The end.)

ENTERTAINS AT SHOWER FOR MISS STELLA HELL

Miss Esther Lemke entertained fourteen young ladies last evening at her home on South Academy street at a shower for Miss Stella Hell, who is to be a June bride. The home was prettily decorated with a profusion of summer flowers, the color scheme being in pink and white. A musical program was enjoyed and daily refreshment service served. The guests were the Misses Stella Hell, Gertrude Hell, Bertha Periberg, Scobla Schiefelbusch, Esther Lemke, Viola Seeman, Stella Hell, Anna Costello, Ruth Costello, Esle Graf, Helen Graf, and Margie Beyer.

Reasonable Care of the Stomach and Bowels is one of Nature's requirements for the maintenance of health. As soon as any weakness is shown, try

HOSTETTER'S Stomach Bitters

LAUNCH CLUB HOLDS A BUSINESS MEETING

Buoy Will Be Placed in Position Marking the River Channel—To Install Lanterns at Danger Points.

There was a meeting of the Launch Club association last evening at their dock on Fifth street, with Commodore Riley in charge of the meeting. The club voted to have the buoys, which have been repainted, placed in their regular position to mark the main channel of the river, under the direction of Commodore Riley.

George Eavrage was empowered to repair the dock and boat carriage. It was also voted to accept the offer of E. J. Manning to install the light-house again opposite Swallow Hollow, and the lanterns on the old dam and at the big sand bar. Mr. Manning also offered to see to the maintenance of these lights and the club voted to reimburse him at the end of the season. A motion was made and carried that the use of the boat carriage be restricted to club members only. Mr. Trumble, who is in charge of the property was instructed to enforce the ruling strictly. The club consists of from forty to fifty members. New number plates for the boats will be issued to members at the first of July when the fiscal year begins. It was also voted to hold monthly meetings during the summer season and that the July meeting should be considered the annual event for the election of officers.

Marriage Licenses: Marriage licenses have been issued today to the following: Ingle Shue of Beloit and Thora Brunzell of Evansville; Ernest A. Rietie and Mae J. Miller, both of Evansville.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT

Written and authorized by S. C. Burnham and to be paid for at the rate of 40c per inch.

To the Voters of Rock County:

I desire to call your attention to a few facts, and ask you to consider them when casting your ballot for County Treasurer at the September primary election.

1st. I have been a resident of Rock County since 1850, nearly my whole life.

2nd. I have never before asked for any office from the voters of the county.

3rd. I have had years of experience in the municipal and school management of the city of Janesville, so that I am familiar with the conduct of public affairs.

4th. If elected I shall have no other business and shall consider that my whole time belongs to Rock County.

If you consider this statement worthy of consideration I shall be pleased to have your support.

S. C. BURNHAM

City of Janesville.

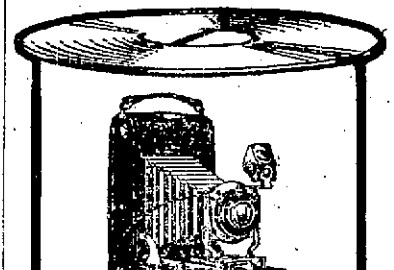

WILL GIVE BENEFIT FOR FRESH AIR FUND

Philanthropic Branch Of Summer Club Secures Apollo Theatre For Film Show June 30th.

A special meeting of the summer club of Home Economics, was held on Friday afternoon when it was voted unanimously to give a benefit performance at the Apollo Theatre on June 30th for the philanthropic work of the club.

Manager Zanias has most generously offered the use of the theatre, and the Paramount Company have donated the loan of one of their best films for this occasion. The subject of the play is "Stillwater" and the star, Marguerite Clark is at her best in this pleasing production. There will be one afternoon program and two evening performances for adults with admission at 20c, with some special vocal music by home talent as an added attraction. At 4 o'clock there will be a special matinee for the children who all love winsome little Marguerite Clark. The admission for the children for the matinee will be 5c. The members of the club hold an enthusiastic meeting on yesterday and are hoping to realize a goodly sum from this effort which will greatly aid this worthy undertaking.

The first squad of children are to be sent out from the United Char-

AnSCO CAMERAS

THE superb AnSCO—best for all scenes, at all times, in all weathers. The amateur camera of professional quality. Priced from $2.00 up. See the various models here. We also have AnSCO Speedex Film and Cyko Paper.

RED CROSS PHARMACY

Acquire New Style Lines

Naturally and quickly

by wearing the corset that was made for your figure instead of trying to fit your figure into the corset that was never meant for it.

Let our expert corsetiers fit you carefully and painstakingly with the right size and model of a

Saturo

Front Lace Corset

For this corset is so perfectly designed that your figure will soon shape itself to the new style lines and hold them even when you lay aside your corset.

Our stock of La Frois is replete with beautiful models in brocades etc., at

$2.00 and Up

May we serve you?

DeLuxe Corset Shop
11 South Main Street

YOU MAY CALL IT AN ICE BOX, REFRIG. ERATOR OR ICE CHEST.

It all means the same thing, but the fact remains that the home without one is like a ship without a rudder or a fish without a tail.

ORDER THE REFRIGERATOR TODAY FROM THE DEALER WHO IS OFFERING YOU A LIBERAL PROPOSITION. It will mean increased comfort, safety for the entire family and will materially help to make the hot weather more livable.

IT BECOMES DOUBLY ESSENTIAL AND PRACTICALLY IMPERATIVE IF THERE IS A LITTLE ONE IN THE HOME that baby's food be kept at the proper temperature to insure maximum safety at all times. The purchase of a refrigerator today may mean everything in the future. Those who are using refrigerators would not hesitate in the attempt to describe its delights.

REMEMBER—He who hesitates now, has no one to find fault with but himself, if there are any regrets later.

ONE MONTH'S ICE FREE WITH EACH NEW REFRIGERATOR PURCHASED FROM ANY OF THESE THREE DEALERS:

Frank Douglas H. L. McNamara
Sheldon Hardware Company.

These dealers also have Ice Picks, Ice Shavers, Ice Tongs, Refrigerator Pans, Ice Cream Freezers, Ice Cream Dishes, etc.

ties, Chicago on June 26. They go to Union City, Ind. It is to be hoped that arrangements can be made so that some of these talented children can be brought to Janesville in July. Mrs. Kimberley, Mrs. O. D. Bates, Mrs. Helms, Mrs. Zanias and Miss Eleanor King were made a committee to plant the sale of tickets. It is hoped that there will be several theatre made up of out of town members who will come in to attend the benefit performance. And all city members of the club and the general public who like to see a good film and help a worthy object are asked to remember the date, June 30, and the play, "Stillwater."

SPECIAL JUNE TERM OF COUNTY COURT TUESDAY

The special June term of the Rock county probate court will open Tuesday, June 20, with a list of fifty-one cases on the calendar. They are:

Wills—Patrick Mooney, Frank Blaser, George J. Powell, Lewis Sigwell, Frederick A. Schumann.
Administration—Martin Shikensjan-ski, Amelia Gardner.
Guardianship—Avis L. Chapman.
Inheritance Tax—Frances H. Bailey.
Sale Real Estate—James Murphy.
Claims—Louise E. Smith, Samuel J. Stone, Patrick H. Lunnin, Edward Williams, Mary S. Potter, Alice M. Neveas, Lewis A. Platts, Charles P. Drake, Julia A. Sanders, Gertrude Zeiminger, John E. Houston, Prudence S. Perkins, Tillie Rumary, Carrie O. Nease, Matthias J. Ward, Horace McElroy, William Maxworthy, Michael Hayes, Addie I. Mott, Mary Welsh, Mary A. McMichael.
Final Account—Michael Byrne, Alonzo C. Gray, Sarah A. Peebles, Frank C. Bradley, Henry Searies, John J. Collins, Caroline W. Johnson, Louis J. Gilbertson, Elling Larsen, George N. Perkins, Mary L. Maryatt, Ole N. Hoff, Louis Gilbertson, Elizabeth Field, Edmund F. Woods, John Moore, Frank W. Stone, Herman Schumacher, Eleanor Clark, Mare D. Henning.

There's real fun for young and old in picture taking. The Kodak way makes it simple. No bother to learn. Kodaks—$5.00 upward; Brownie Cameras $1 to $12. Expert Developing and Printing.

Smith's Pharmacy

THE REXALL STORE.
Kodaks and Kodak Supplies.

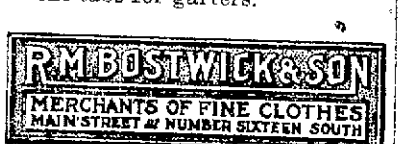

Alheneeds

50c

For the Little Boy

Does away with Separate Waists, Drawers and Garter Supporters. Has buttons for trousers, drop seat and patent tabs for garters.

If Hair's Your Pride Use Herpicide

A Series Of Gospel Street Rallies

will be held in JANESVILLE, BEGINNING JUNE 17 AND LASTING OVER SUNDAY, JUNE 25.

Every night at 8:00 o'clock. Led by B. A. and Mrs. Nelson, Chicago's most successful street workers. Evangelistic meetings in the Aerodome (near Y. M. C. A.) following each street service. Don't fail to hear these singing Evangelists.

B. W. COOLIER

for C. H. H.

Rehberg's Sport Shirts

50c AND $1.00.

Men's and Boys' Sport Shirts, plain body with fancy collar, in plain white and stripes. Very good values.

A word to the wise—to those who advertise. Use want ads every day and your word for it, they'll sure pay.

BRIDAL BOUQUETS and Floral decorations for weddings or receptions from the

FLOWER SHOP

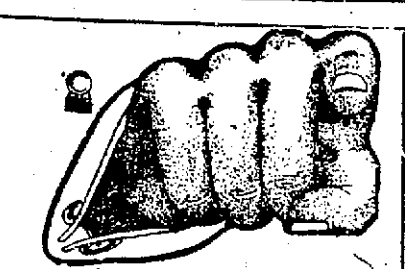

Will lack nothing in freshness, in beauty of coloring, or in artistic design.

Naturally you want something different—our artists have the happy faculty of never repeating—every design is original. Their limitless possibilities in this direction are very largely due to the magnitude of our greenhouses.

Just phone us your order—immediate delivery will be made.

Janesville Floral Company

"Flower Shop" Edw. Amerpohl, Prop. 50 South Main St. Both Phones

IF YOU ARE 25 YEARS OF AGE

You can buy one of our 1916 Dividend Paying Life Policies

For $16.61 Per Thousand

After policy is once written this rate can never be raised, remaining $16.61 per thousand as long as you choose to carry the policy.

At the end of the second year this payment actually being lowered by the profits of the company which are paid back to you at the end of each year in dividend checks.

C. P. BEERS,
AGENT

2nd Floor Jackman Bldg.

When you think of Insurance think of C. P. Beers.

Both Phones.

If You Wish Up-to-date Dentistry

You will get the very latest approved service in my office.

I believe few Dentists in the United States are any better equipped, or are doing more advanced work.

I am laboring also to keep my fees down where people can pay them. Although I confess it's up-hill work, in face of the increased costs of everything a dentist has to buy.

DR. F. T. RICHARDS

Dentist.
(Over Rehberg's.)
All work fully guaranteed.

Certificates of Deposit Payable On Demand

Make excellent short time investments for people who are waiting to loan their money on real estate. These certificates are negotiable by endorsement and draw 2% interest if left four months and 3% if left six months or longer.

3% On Savings.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Established 1855.
The Bank With the Efficient Service.

"THE BANK OF THE PEOPLE" Before You Leave

Pack up your silverware and valuables and bring them to our safe deposit vaults for safekeeping.

Modern fire and burglar proof safes for rent on reasonable terms. 3% interest paid on savings.

MERCHANTS AND SAVINGS BANK

The Oldest Savings Bank in Rock County.

W. A. DAKES, D. C.

CHIROPRACTOR
321 HAYS BLOCK
Office phone R. C. 715 White, Bell, 193.
Residence phone R. C. 959 Black.
Lady Attendant. Calls made
Spinal analysis free.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

FOR SALE—A fine Duroc boar, F. S. Terwilliger. Old phone 523 Black.
21-6-17-2.

FOR RENT—Furnished front room in strictly modern house, close in, board if desired. "A. B. C." Gazette.
8-6-17-2.

WANTED—Housekeepers, $5 a week. Private houses and hotels. Mrs. E. McCarthy, licensed agent. Both phones.
6-17

FOR RENT—Half of double house at 1017 Olive street. $11.50. 11-6-17-3.

FOR SALE—Windows of four lights each, at a bargain. Inquire 412 S. Academy St.
13-6-17-2.

DON'T FORGET the L. A. O. F. card party and social at Eagles' hall Tues. Eve, June 20. Refreshments served. Admission 15c. Everybody welcome.
27-6-17-2.

FOR RENT—5-room flat, gas, toilet, cistern. $12.00. 204 Cherry St.
45-6-17-3 Sat. Tues. Thurs.
50-6-17-2.

FOR SALE OR RENT—Boat house on Rock river, good location. Inquire F. H. Lumber Co.
50-6-17-2.

WANTED—Washing or plain sewing to do at home. Inquire 1123 S. Academy St. Old phone 2163.
8-6-17-3.

FOR RENT—Modern 7-room house, good location. Phone 573 black.
11-6-17-3.

FOR RENT—3 modern furnished light housekeeping rooms and bath. X. Y. Z. care of Gazette.
8-6-17-2.

CHIROPRACTOR E. H. Darrow, D. C.

The only Palmer School Graduate in Janesville.
If you are sick, here is the place to get well. Examination FREE.
Calls made anywhere at any time.
Office, 405 Jackson Bldg.
Both phones 970.
Residence phone, R. C. 527 Red.
I have the only X-ray machine in Southern Wisconsin.

F. W. MILLER CHIROPRACTOR

409-410 Jackson Block.
R. C. Phone 179 Black.
Hours 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.
Lady Attendant.
Your Spine Examined Free.

Members of Rebekah lodge 171 and their friends were entertained at the suburban home of Mrs. W. B. Davis, on Magnolia avenue, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Charles Ward assisted Mrs. Davis, and about thirty-five ladies enjoyed their hospitality.

TELLS VIVID DETAILS OF ITALY'S POSITION IN WORLD'S GREAT WAR

MRS. CELIA NEIL WHITE VISITING IN JANESVILLE HAD INTERESTING EXPERIENCES SINCE WAR BEGAN.

WORKED IN RED CROSS

She Spent Seven Months Among Wounded at Florence—Exciting Chase by Subseas on Journey to U. S.

"The European war has degraded into a frightful and atrocious fight for commercial supremacy between the leading belligerent powers of the old world with the exception of peace and cessation of hostilities swaying in the hands of the neutral nations, the United States, Sweden, Norway, Denmark and Holland.

This is the opinion of Mrs. Celia Neil White, a former Janesville resident, who has spent a great share of her life in Italy and, recently returned from that country. She elucidates many of those clouded and uncertain questions most prominent in American minds as to the unrelenting continuance of hostilities while rumors

"After leaving Florence we sighted two German submarines. We are supposed to have had supply bases on the northern coast of Africa. In a light of twelve hours when they liner consumed eight thousand dollars worth of extra coal placed aboard for just such an emergency. Leaving the Italian coast we traveled for hours in the Mediterranean. In less than three or four hours we sighted and counted five torpedo boat destroyers.

A peculiar thing about our journey is that while in the Mediterranean we were constantly in sight of the African coast. I have made the trip more than thirty times but never before did I have a sight of the north coast line only when we were at Algiers. The night we left Italy our wireless informed us that German submarines had sunk two merchantmen on the same ocean pathway we were on.

"Take Many Precautions. "Every precaution was taken against accident on our vessel. The lifeboats were lowered to a level with the promenade deck. They were supplied with food, water and rockets. Life belts and rafts were at all points along the decks and in the state rooms. We were handed a life preserver and as we boarded a ship we were advised to wear it continually.

Some inventive genius has developed a new life raft and we had several of these boats on board. They were about an inch or two in thickness, about fourteen or sixteen inches long and ten inches wide, lashed together with rope to make a ladder-like affair with rope at the points, and about over two hundred and fifty feet in height. These would have been thrown overboard in case of a mine or torpedo accident and no doubt would have been the means of saving hundreds.

With Mrs. White is Miss Valentine Hernandez of New Orleans. They have been constant companions for the past twenty years. Mrs. Hernandez will be in Janesville for some time. Her mother, the wife of the late Captain Neal, resides in Chicago.

VESTIBULE WILL BE ABANDONED SUNDAY

Last Run of Janesville's Famous "Forty Thousand Dollar Train"

Will Be Made Tonight.

The Chicago & Northwestern railway's through Chicago-Milwaukee passenger train, the "vestibule" or "accommodation train," via Janesville, will make its last trip tonight. Similarly, the southbound morning train will be discontinued. These trains will be re-routed via Milwaukee between Chicago and Minneapolis, and vice versa, to compensate for the loss of the Chicago & St. Paul railway's crack train, which at the present time are getting the bigger majority of passenger hauls between the two points.

Janesville pointed will be compelled to leave here at 5:45 a. m. daily to assure early arrival at Chicago hereafter. Leaving Chicago will also be at 4:45 a. m.

Adv. Hemmens, local agent of the Northwestern, this morning announced that the company will continue its dining car service and will place another coach on the train, which will be at midnight. The diner will be dropped here and picked up each morning by the southbound train at 5:45. A coach and a sleeper will be through cars between Chicago and Minneapolis.

While considerable displeasure is expressed as a result of the company's abandoning of the trains to compete with another road at the expense of Janesville, no united effort to compel the company to keep the trains in use as formerly has sprung up, locally. The line is expected to be in the same frame of mind as certain people here.

MISS FITZGERALD'S CLASS AT BRODHEAD IN PROGRAM

The class in physical culture and expression, conducted by Miss Josephine Fitzgerald of this city at Brodhead, gave an entertainment at the Brodhead Opera House on Tuesday evening last which was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience. The program consisted of marches, dances, pantomimes and readings, with elaborate costumes and artistic effects. The pupils displayed unusual talent and ability. Miss Fitzgerald's class in this city will present a similar program here next Wednesday evening.

JANESVILLE BOY MARRIES AT FARGO, NORTH DAKOTA

An announcement received at the Lakota club this morning told of the wedding Sunday last, at Fargo, North Dakota, of William Miller, former Janesville boy. Mr. Miller took as his bride Miss Hylda Engstrom of Fargo. The ceremony was performed at the Lutheran cathedral. Miller is well known in Janesville. He is engaged in newspaper work in the west.

OBITUARY.

Edward Kendrick. Friends in this city have received word of the death of Edward H. Kendrick of Worcester, Mass. Mr. Kendrick passed away on Wednesday, June 15, at his home. His survivors include his wife, Mrs. Kendrick, and his daughter, Miss Kate Wheeler of this city, daughter of Charles Wheeler. She was a niece of the late Dr. J. W. St. John and lived in Janesville all her early life.

Too Much. "Why must you always go out every time one of my woman friends calls?" "Well, my dear," responded her husband, "I am glad to meet your friends. But you must remember that I have heard the story of your Atlantic City trip about seventeen times now."

Indianapolis Star.

GUERNSEY BREEDERS EXPECT BIG CROWDS AT MEETING TUESDAY

Nearly Three Hundred Planned for Best Known Class Breeders in U. S. Will Be Present.

Between two and three hundred Guernsey breeders are expected to attend the summer meeting of the Rock County Guernsey Breeders' association, to be held all day Tuesday at the farm of M. S. Kellogg, near the Wisconsin school for the blind. Members of the committee in charge of arrangements are making every effort to mark the day as a success in cattle raising and breeding, and of Rock county and farmer interest in "better stock" can not well afford to miss attending.

Charles Hill of Rosendale, perhaps the greatest, and without a doubt the best known, Guernsey talent authority in the United States, has been secured to come to the meeting for an address. Mr. Hill will show the advantages of pure blood cattle breeding, particularly those of Guernsey cattle. There will be demonstrations of judging, etc.

Farmers and their families are invited to attend the day, but not be given over entirely to the men because the committee has decided to make it a big county community affair, and to have a number of speakers for subjects of paramount interest to the men, they have secured Mrs. A. B. West to speak on farm matters of interest to the wives of the farmers.

Superintendent of this city has also been secured to speak at the West of the high school agricultural department. In addition a male quartet has been engaged to deliver a program of numbers during the afternoon. This quartet is composed of Stanley Horwood, C. R. Bearmore, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Prof. J. S. Taylor and Arthur Schoof.

It is proposed that the men bring their dinner for a gigantic outing lunch at the noon hour on Mr. Kellogg's excellent farm. An inclement weather will be a drawback to the meeting, and should it rain the dresses and demonstrations will be held in a large and recently erected barn on the Kellogg farm.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. William Sherer of Madison street gave a luncheon today at one o'clock at the Country club. Covered with a white cloth and candles were played in the afternoon. Mrs. Celia White and Miss Hernandez of Los Angeles, Cal., were the guests of honor.

Four ladies played golf on Friday at the Country Club, and enjoyed the luncheon which was served at one o'clock.

Mr. Harry McNamara, 523 Mineral Point avenue, is giving a small luncheon today at one o'clock. The ladies played bridge whist in the afternoon. An auction bridge club met on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. E. J. East street. Miss Harriett Kaveling was the prize. At four o'clock refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Beemis of Footville gave a business last evening. Several people from this city attended.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bingham, 13 South Wisconsin street, gave a dinner on Friday evening at seven o'clock. After the dinner the guests attended the theatre.

Mrs. S. M. Smith, 1016 Milwaukee avenue, entertained at a one o'clock luncheon on Friday. Cards were played in the afternoon.

Mrs. John Brecher and daughter Margaret E. have left for Milwaukee to attend the wedding of Miss Catherine Elmer.

George Miller, Jr., of 432 North Washington street, left yesterday for Davenport, Iowa, where he will spend the next few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Clinton went to Chicago today to remain over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Deneen of St. Mary's avenue have returned from Mt. Horeb, where they attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. D. Kellogg.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blabas are spending the week-end with friends at Baraboo.

Mr. J. T. Shear of the high school expects to leave on Monday for the east, where he will spend the greater part of the summer. He will be accompanied by H. J. Center, boys' secretary of the city.

Ora Paul of this city has returned from an extended visit through the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Flaherty of 11 North Jackson street welcomed their son to their home on Tuesday, June 13.

Daniel Stickney who attends Notre Dame University, returned to his home in this city where he will spend the summer vacation.

Mrs. Ralph L. Whitney and Miss H. Whitney leave for Tacoma, Wash., tomorrow for an extended western trip. They will spend the summer visiting at Pacific coast points.

E. B. Loofborow and daughter have returned from a visit in Milton Junction with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wilkins, Fifth avenue, left today for Chicago, where they will visit for several days.

Mrs. C. E. McCarthy, West Milwaukee street, left this morning for Chicago to meet her son, Glen McCarthy, who is coming home from Indianapolis, Ind., for a week.

Mrs. A. L. Whitney, Court street, left today for Tacoma, Wash., where she will spend the summer with relatives.

Frank Webster, formerly of this city, has moved from this city to Milwaukee, where they will make their home in the future.

Superintendent Jean Shear of the high school will be the guest of honor at an eastern trip. He expects to spend the most of the summer in the east.

Oscar Deitz of South Janesville was in the city yesterday for the Vista flats went to Oconomowoc this morning, where she will visit friends for a week.

Mrs. Guy Bridges of the Cullen flats on Milwaukee avenue are entertaining their parents, from Fort Atkinson, over Sunday.

Miss Nellie Colvin of the Michaels flats is home from Mrs. Olson, where she has been engaged in library work, to spend her vacation. In the fall she will take a position in Stanley, Wis., where she will be in charge of the home from her studies at Wisconsin college, Appleton, to spend the summer.

Stanley Metcalf is home from Lawrence University, Appleton, for his vacation.

Stanley Yonice of Third street returned home last evening from Brown University, Providence, L. I., to spend his summer vacation.

Daily Thought. The sweetest music is not in oratorio, but in the human voice when it speaks from its instant life tones of tenderness, truth and courage.—Emerson.

Havana Stars, colored, here Sunday. See Havana Stars play here Sunday.

GUERNSEY BREEDERS EXPECT BIG CROWDS AT MEETING TUESDAY

Nearly Three Hundred Planned for Best Known Class Breeders in U. S. Will Be Present.

Between two and three hundred Guernsey breeders are expected to attend the summer meeting of the Rock County Guernsey Breeders' association, to be held all day Tuesday at the farm of M. S. Kellogg, near the Wisconsin school for the blind. Members of the committee in charge of arrangements are making every effort to mark the day as a success in cattle raising and breeding, and of Rock county and farmer interest in "better stock" can not well afford to miss attending.

Charles Hill of Rosendale, perhaps the greatest, and without a doubt the best known, Guernsey talent authority in the United States, has been secured to come to the meeting for an address. Mr. Hill will show the advantages of pure blood cattle breeding, particularly those of Guernsey cattle. There will be demonstrations of judging, etc.

Farmers and their families are invited to attend the day, but not be given over entirely to the men because the committee has decided to make it a big county community affair, and to have a number of speakers for subjects of paramount interest to the men, they have secured Mrs. A. B. West to speak on farm matters of interest to the wives of the farmers.

Superintendent of this city has also been secured to speak at the West of the high school agricultural department. In addition a male quartet has been engaged to deliver a program of numbers during the afternoon. This quartet is composed of Stanley Horwood, C. R. Bearmore, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Prof. J. S. Taylor and Arthur Schoof.

It is proposed that the men bring their dinner for a gigantic outing lunch at the noon hour on Mr. Kellogg's excellent farm. An inclement weather will be a drawback to the meeting, and should it rain the dresses and demonstrations will be held in a large and recently erected barn on the Kellogg farm.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. William Sherer of Madison street gave a luncheon today at one o'clock at the Country club. Covered with a white cloth and candles were played in the afternoon. Mrs. Celia White and Miss Hernandez of Los Angeles, Cal., were the guests of honor.

Four ladies played golf on Friday at the Country Club, and enjoyed the luncheon which was served at one o'clock.

Mr. Harry McNamara, 523 Mineral Point avenue, is giving a small luncheon today at one o'clock. The ladies played bridge whist in the afternoon. An auction bridge club met on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. E. J. East street. Miss Harriett Kaveling was the prize. At four o'clock refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Beemis of Footville gave a business last evening. Several people from this city attended.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bingham, 13 South Wisconsin street, gave a dinner on Friday evening at seven o'clock. After the dinner the guests attended the theatre.

Mrs. S. M. Smith, 1016 Milwaukee avenue, entertained at a one o'clock luncheon on Friday. Cards were played in the afternoon.

Mrs. John Brecher and daughter Margaret E. have left for Milwaukee to attend the wedding of Miss Catherine Elmer.

George Miller, Jr., of 432 North Washington street, left yesterday for Davenport, Iowa, where he will spend the next few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Clinton went to Chicago today to remain over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Deneen of St. Mary's avenue have returned from Mt. Horeb, where they attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. D. Kellogg.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blabas are spending the week-end with friends at Baraboo.

Mr. J. T. Shear of the high school expects to leave on Monday for the east, where he will spend the greater part of the summer. He will be accompanied by H. J. Center, boys' secretary of the city.

Ora Paul of this city has returned from an extended visit through the west.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Flaherty of 11 North Jackson street welcomed their son to their home on Tuesday, June 13.

Daniel Stickney who attends Notre Dame University, returned to his home in this city where he will spend the summer vacation.

Mrs. Ralph L. Whitney and Miss H. Whitney leave for Tacoma, Wash., tomorrow for an extended western trip. They will spend the summer visiting at Pacific coast points.

E. B. Loofborow and daughter have returned from a visit in Milton Junction with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wilkins, Fifth avenue, left today for Chicago, where they will visit for several days.

Mrs. C. E. McCarthy, West Milwaukee street, left this morning for Chicago to meet her son, Glen McCarthy, who is coming home from Indianapolis, Ind., for a week.

Mrs. A. L. Whitney, Court street, left today for Tacoma, Wash., where she will spend the summer with relatives.

Frank Webster, formerly of this city, has moved from this city to Milwaukee, where they will make their home in the future.

Superintendent Jean Shear of the high school will be the guest of honor at an eastern trip. He expects to spend the most of the summer in the east.

Oscar Deitz of South Janesville was in the city yesterday for the Vista flats went to Oconomowoc this morning, where she will visit friends for a week.

Mrs. Guy Bridges of the Cullen flats on Milwaukee avenue are entertaining their parents, from Fort Atkinson, over Sunday.

Miss Nellie Colvin of the Michaels flats is home from Mrs. Olson, where she has been engaged in library work, to spend her vacation. In the fall she will take a position in Stanley, Wis., where she will be in charge of the home from her studies at Wisconsin college, Appleton, to spend the summer.

Stanley Metcalf is home from Lawrence University, Appleton, for his vacation.

Stanley Yonice of Third street returned home last evening from Brown University, Providence, L. I., to spend his summer vacation.

Daily Thought. The sweetest music is not in oratorio, but in the human voice when it speaks from its instant life tones of tenderness, truth and courage.—Emerson.

Havana Stars, colored, here Sunday. See Havana Stars play here Sunday.

ASPHALT SALESMEN STILL HOLDING UP AWARD OF CONTRACT

Bermuda Agent Claims Before Board of Public Works That Sarcos Is Not a Natural Asphalt as Required.

The asphalt war has not been settled, or even has peace been declared, but a big fight is being fought, morning and cleared several trenches that had been troubling them during the past week. The board of public works, being the powers to decide, will have their hands full to let the contract for the asphalt-macadam paving for Oakland avenue and Forest Park boulevard.

Friday afternoon the board met and took up the matter with Mr. Cartack, agent for the company selling Sarcos asphalt, who, with his attorney, Charles E. Pierce, held the floor. The meeting ended early, when several members desired to go to Madison to hear about something besides asphalt, when Mr. Jeffris opened his campaign. The question is purely a legal one, if the board of public works or council commission can award the contract to the Bermuda asphalt manufacturers rather than the company selling Sarcos.

It is generally understood that every member of the board is in favor of Bermuda, and will award the contract for this asphalt, even though the price is the highest, being $1.05. They consider it the best material available.

Now it appears that the Sarcos producers have got a "high-low-jack and the game" hold on the bids through the fact that several low estimates were submitted under the new specifications. The board divided the asphalt into two classes, that which is prepared essentially from refined, crude or solid "natural" asphalt, softening the required consistency of artificial asphalt. The Bermuda bid is $1.05 and the Sarcos bid $1.01. The Sarcos agent claims his product is a natural asphalt and meets with every requirement of the specifications. If so, the board under the law will have to award the contract with the conditions that this asphalt be used.

At a late hour, Mr. A. J. Burroughs, representative of the company producing Bermuda, and he alleges that the Sarcos did not have a natural product, and if they claim so, it was a "manufacture" and not a "natural" product. The complete history of the asphalt mining, the various sources of obtaining the material, and other problems came into consideration, until asphalt was a much abused word.

The board used judgment in not bringing the two asphalt agents to stage a debate on the qualities of each other's product, for in making various and different claims, there might have been something interesting occurred. Agent Abell stated that the Sarcos asphalt is a "natural" material, but was pure, unadulterated asphalt reduced down to the usable stage. He also claimed that the company that formerly made Sarcos asphalt was not in the market for asphalt paving asphalt, but that they had a small supply which they desired to "wish" on Janesville.

Other facts were presented to the board to show that the Sarcos material bid on could not be called a natural material in the commercial sense. So it becomes the duty of the board of public works to decide which is the right. If they decide Sarcos does not come under the class of a natural asphalt, according to the specifications, and award the bid to the Bermuda company, a legal action might result. The board came to no final decision today, desiring to carefully consider the various angles to the case and make a legal investigation before awarding the contract.

WON SCHOLARSHIP TO CHICAGO UNIVERSITY

Colton Sayles Graduated From Wayland Academy With High Honors—Given Special Award.

Colton Sayles, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Sayles, of Court street, has graduated from Wayland Academy with high honors, being awarded the $120 Chicago University scholarship for the highest mark for the three year course. Young Sayles was captain of the football team of the Academy this past year, playing quarterback, and was also president of the graduating class.

Other facts were presented to the board to show that the Sarcos material bid on could not be called a natural material in the commercial sense. So it becomes the duty of the board of public works to decide which is the right. If they decide Sarcos does not come under the class of a natural asphalt, according to the specifications, and award the bid to the Bermuda company, a legal action might result. The board came to no final decision today, desiring to carefully consider the various angles to the case and make a legal investigation before awarding the contract.

Other facts were presented to the board to show that the Sarcos material bid on could not be called a natural material in the commercial sense. So it becomes the duty of the board of public works to decide which is the right. If they decide Sarcos does not come under the class of a natural asphalt, according to the specifications, and award the bid to the Bermuda company, a legal action might result. The board came to no final decision today, desiring to carefully consider the various angles to the case and make a legal investigation before awarding the contract.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Devins of Chicago are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Woodstock, 202 Locust street.

Mr. H. Barker of Delavan was visiting friends in this city on Friday. H. E. Lawrence of Rockford is a Janesville visitor today.

R. Keynotes of Beloit is spending the day here on business.

William Dodd of Koshkonong is transacting business in this city today.

Miss Lydia Clark of Brodhead is ill at a hospital, where she recently underwent an operation.

Miss Juliet Lawrence of Duluth, Minn., is the guest of Miss Alta Field of Jackson street.

Dr. C. W. Post and son, Charles of Chicago were visiting friends in this city yesterday.

Bliss H. Lloyd of Evanston, Ill., is a business caller in this city today.

Mrs. Frank Stator of Brodhead has been spending the week in Janesville with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stabler of South Main street.

Mr. Stabler's wife, Mrs. Grace Stabler, of Brodhead, underwent an operation at Mercy hospital this week for appendicitis. She is going nicely.

Mrs. John Shearer of Chicago is visiting in town, the guest of her mother, Mrs. Mary Merrill, South Third street.

John O'Connor of Minneapolis is visiting at his home in this city for a few days.

Louis Broninick of Rockford is the guest of Janesville friends this week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Baker of Evansville are the guests of Janesville friends Thursday.

D. C. Gile of Edgerton was a visitor in Janesville yesterday.

Miss Beulah Brown of Detroit, Mich., who has been the guest of Miss Lucile Hyde, returned home today.

Everett Beemis of Chicago, who has been spending several weeks in Janesville and the latter's little daughter, spent Friday in Janesville.

James Hopkins departed Friday for Huron, South Dakota, where he has employment as a fireman on the C. & N. W. Ry

Sport Snap Shots MORRIS MILLER

A few years ago "Pat" Flaherty, one-time Boston pitcher, was twirling in the Southern Association. "Pat's" arm was about gone, but he had two valuable assets—a good head and a great motion toward first base, which he often caught runners napping off the bag.

Charley Doon objects to the statement that Pop Moran won the pennant last year with the same club that Charley had when he was the Quaker leader. "It was very far from being the identical team that I had," said Doon. "In the first place, he had three-quarters of an infield that turned out to be a great improvement over those I had. He also had an additional outfielder of class and several ambitious youngsters who were not included in my roster to the installation of organization on the team. Pat was also free from the handicap of having several men on the team who thought they should have been appointed manager when I was. Pat is my friend and he will always have my best wishes, but he could never have won a pennant with the team that I had when I was managing the Phillies. He had just enough additional strength to put it over."

Whisper, mister! John Evers is actually fat. Once a lightweight, the scrappy captain of the Boston Braves has huddled the welter and middle-weight classes and landed korunkun among the heavies. The Trojan now scales the 160 pound mark. Evers is fat and it's hard to realize it is Evers when he stands at the plate. "I never worried over anything more than 140 pounds this weight," said Johnny. "I never weighed under 140. I was 140 when I played for the Chicago Cubs. Yet here I have gained so much that I have to add to my other worries. All my life I have been a fellow who worries. I guess that's what makes me an older man than Hans Wagner, though I'm nearly ten years younger. Hans takes things philosophically, but I don't. I'm going to reduce my weight. I don't feel nearly as good as I did when I weighed 135."

The interesting announcement comes from Chicago that Alvin Karpis has concluded his team needs new blood and he has sent a scout to scour the bushes for talent. In the gentle spring Karpis thought he had a hell of a good time with pennants in the National league for years to come without any material change.

Some of those partisans opposed to the Federal league who do not realize that the war is over are seeking to draw comparisons unfavorable to the late departed from the showing of Toledo in the American Association. Toledo, recruited largely from Federal league talent, occupies a second division berth in the Chivington circuit. Perhaps this rattling of dry bones is the more excusable from the fact that the class A league always resented the claim of the Federals to major league class, and this feeling was the more accentuated in Indianapolis and Kansas City, where the Indians and Blues were forced to meet the opposition of Federal clubs which claimed to be big leaguers and in addition were backed by home capital.

Christy Mathewson has added the splitter to his long repertoire of pitching craft, which hitherto featured the fadeaway and the brainball. The old master doesn't possess the speed he once did, but he has added materially to his effectiveness by including the damp ball, which he adopted a year ago. Now he uses it quite often and controls it so well he baffles many batters with it. Mathewson resorted to the splitter several times during a recent game at Pittsburgh and was successful.

Evansville News

Evansville, June 17.—Mrs. A. H. Hill and son, David, of Milton Junction are spending the last of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Glidden.

Mrs. Frank Tupper and John Wall returned last night from a visit with relatives and friends at Neillsville.

Miss Olive Chapin has returned from Africa where she spent the wedding of her brother, Walter Chapin, of this city. Miss Selma Hamel of Afton. The couple will be at Afton after a two weeks' trip to Milwaukee, Chicago, and other places. Their many friends extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Patchen are spending the week in Michigan.

Miss Bernadine Gillman, who has been attending normal school at Milwaukee, is home to spend the summer vacation.

Mrs. Cora Fairbanks, who has been teaching at Oconomowoc, is here to spend the summer at her home.

Miss Zita Webb, who has been attending normal at Milwaukee, is here to spend the summer with her father.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Durner announce the arrival of a son, Thursday, June 18th.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCoy have moved into the George Hyne residence on East Main street.

Mrs. Lulu Dixon of Janesville was the mid-week guest of local relatives.

Mrs. L. B. Ludington has returned from a visit with her niece at Rockford.

Leonard Eager of Madison is home for the summer months.

R. Keyser left yesterday for Madison.

Miss Catherine Greenwood is on a two weeks' visit at Ripon.

Mrs. Stella Bullard is enjoying a two weeks' vacation from her duties in the Grange bank.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Groh have returned from a visit with friends at Baraboo.

Charles Walker and H. W. Hamilton attended the fifty-fifth annual campment of the Wisconsin G. A. R. at Ripon, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Mr. Walker representing the Sons of Veterans.

Miss Hazel Hankinson, who has been teaching at Monroe the past year, is here to spend the summer vacation with her father.

Mrs. Laura Flint returned yesterday from a visit with Oregon relatives.

George Pullen and family are spending a few days at Lake Kegonsa.

Miss Edna Lewis, who has been teaching at Iola the past year, is here to spend the summer with her mother.

Mrs. Minnie Lewis.

Northwestern University, Chicago, a former resident of this city, is visiting Mrs. F. L. Jones and family, en route to her home at Colorado, where she will spend the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Snashall and Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Baker motored to Janesville, Thursday, accompanying Mrs. F. L. Baker Patterson and little daughter, that far, on their way home to Green Bay after Mrs. Patterson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Baker.

A word to the wise—to those who advertise. Use want ads every day; our word for it, they'll surely pay.

Amusements

(Notices furnished by the theatres.)

AT BEVERLY THEATRE.

"The Moral Fabric" Tonight. The Triangle-Kay Bee feature at the Beverly tonight, in which Frank Mills is starred, will serve to introduce a new face to the Triangle program, that of Edith Reeves, who is well known to vaudeville audiences all over the country. Miss Reeves has the chief supporting role in the production, that of Mrs. Amy Winthrop, the wife, who is forced by her conventional husband and who becomes engulfed in the siren theory of free love. The part is said to call for the highest type of dramatic ability, of which she had to prove herself capable before being cast in the play by Producer Thomas H. Ince.

Miss Reeves recently forsook the vaudeville stage for motion pictures, the silent drama offering her a broader field of endeavor than did the speaking stage. Prior to entering the ranks of the artists of the screen, she was well known in houses showing high class vaudeville, having played many sketches which won high favor.

AT THE APOLLO.

Dustin Farnum in "David Garrick." The good old days with their carefree views of life are admirably shown in the Pallas photoplay, "David Garrick," released on the Paramount program at the Apollo on Monday.

The big scene in the old Nag's Head tavern is wonderfully staged. In the spacious room are gathered many quaint types.

The poet with his parchment script, the sporting gentry with their gamecocks that soon are in deadly combat, the prize fight enthusiasts in friendly bout, the gaming-tables with the solemn players drinking from the leather drinking mugs, the now obsolete mannerisms—all are of interest as being true-to-life touches of bygone days. This atmosphere frames a charming love story of the great Garrick.

Dustin Farnum and Winifred Kingston are featured in this picture.

AT BEVERLY THEATRE.

"Hoodoo Ann" on Sunday. Nearly everyone in this world devotes the greater part of the two-thirds of life not spent in bed in search of a sensation. This state of affair is well set forth in a new Triangle-Fine Arts release called "Hoodoo Ann," at the Beverly on Sunday, where the characters concerned have ample opportunity to define the particular kinds of sensation they would like to experience.

Bobby Harron, the Triangle-Fine Arts Star Now Appearing in "Hoodoo Ann."

"Hoodoo Ann," for instance, who is a little girl in an orphanage, suffering under displeasure of Miss Scraggs, a crabbed matron, can conceive of no sensation better than being hooked up to bed by some kind maternal person. She knows it must be very pleasant because she has seen Miss Scraggs, but her favorite charge, little Goldie, under the quilts in precisely this manner. Little Goldie has her own point of view, and rather envies the picturesque of Anna's drowsy of scrubbing floors and washing dishes. Miss Scraggs herself has a gnawing at her heart every time she sees the sweet-faced Mrs. Knapp kissed by her gentle husband, and Mrs. Knapp in turn has a great longing to tuck into bed a child to take the place of her lost little girl.

Just how these various sensations are gratified constitutes a novel story which has to be seen to afford the very pleasant sensation of having curiously sailed.

AT THE APOLLO.

Mary Pickford in "The Eternal Grind." If you were a beautiful young girl whose sister had fallen the victim of a wealthy young chap and that same fellow wanted to make love to you—and if the sister followed him to your home with the intention of shooting him, would you scream and run away or

NEWS NOTES from MOVIELAND 67 DAISY DEAN

Who is the prettiest girl in moving pictures? This question has been discussed a great many times, and apparently there is no unanimity of opinion in many cases. The honor to Clara Kimball Young, others vote for Lillian Gish; still others think Anita Stewart deserves first honors. In spite of these strong contestants Lila Chester has won more than one beauty contest. One of her most recent photographs is shown herewith. Judge for yourself.

DO YOU KNOW THAT:

Alice Brady is just entering her twenties.

Jesse Lasky is not yet 35.

Marcus Loew built a $1,000,000 theater on his birth site.

Censorship has never thrived where censors are paid by the state.

Ivy Close is the most popular English screen star.

Muriel Osliche runs a dancing studio when not acting.

Frank Sheridan writes songs and music under the name of John Franklyn.

Thomas W. Lawson wrote "Friday the 13th."

A camera has photographed objects six miles away.

Lila is almost impossible to photograph the eyes of a cat.

House Peters always wanted to be an outlaw until he grew up—then he became an actor.

A mirror screen has been invented which allows daylight photoplay projection.

Lenore Ulrich, on the stage this spring in "The Heart of Wexona," has left for Los Angeles to appear in more film plays. Her last film play was the Mexican romance, "The Heart of Paula."

Ivy Close, prize winner in an international beauty contest, has arrived from England to appear in comedies.

Edith Storey and Antonio Moreno, the popular stars will soon be seen in a five-part Mexican story.

would you take command of the situation? Mary Pickford took the revolver out of the girl's hand, held the man at bay with it and sent for a minister. When the reverend gentleman arrived, she concealed herself behind a curtain and held the gun to the man's back while he went through the wedding ceremony.

It all happened in "The Eternal Grind," Mary Pickford's latest big feature in which she is being starred by the Famous Players Film company on the Paramount program. It is the stellar attraction at the Apollo theatre for the coming Wednesday. In this powerful story, Mary Pickford plays the role of factory girl who battles against frightful odds in her struggle to preserve intact the little home of which the death of her father has made her the head. She has two sisters, Amy a girl of shadowy moral character, and Jane, a confirmed invalid. It is in the effort to save those girls from disgrace and death that the power of Mary's character is developed to its utmost.

AT THE APOLLO.

Vaudeville Tonight and Sunday. A last minute change in the vaude-

MAJESTIC
SPECIAL TONIGHT
KATHLYN WILLIAMS
IN THE ORCHID
ALSO
HELEN THE FEARLESS
FILM STAR
IN TAPPED WIRES
SPECIAL SUNDAY
CHARLES KENT
THE GRAND OLD MAN OF MOTION PICTURES
IN
THE MAN HE USED TO BE

Lila Chester.

characters will make a very laughable film.

AT BEVERLY THEATRE.

Marguerite Courtot in "Feathertop." On Monday the Beverly will present again the Mutual Master-picture, "Feathertop" in which Marguerite Courtot is featured. This is a beautiful production of the appealing heart interest drama by Paul M. Ryan and is in five acts.

On the Spur of the Moment ROY K. MOULTON

WHO? Who put the back in Hackensack? Who put the buck in Timbuctoo? Who put the sand in Sandringham? Who put the zoo in Kalamazoo? Who put the saw in Arkansas? Who put the ham in Birmingham? Who put the riles in Mississippi? Who put the dam in Amsterdam? Well answer all of these for you. But there's one thing we cannot tell.

Who put all that enormous price in gasoline the dealers sell?

SIGNS OF THE TIMES Colonel Harvey says, "Nobody wants Hughes—nobody but the people. The people, huh? Who are they? Speaking of wealth, there is one millionaire in New York who uses his money as a target for pipe cleaners. The greasers are certainly proving that there is something in a name. They are slippery enough. Well, at any rate, the weather bureau is starting off the list of the ice man as long as possible. Doesn't look as if the international situation is ever going to run out of crises."

The limit has been reached. Women are going to wear hand painted hats this season. Are those Mexican Indians guiding Uncle Sam, or gazing him?

SKINNY'S ESSAY AGAINST SLANG If there is anything that gets our nanny it is the use of slang. Some guys spill so much of that kind of dope that it is hard to get wits to their snail. Kids should be put next by their parents that slang is on the Fritz and should be cut out. If I had a kid that could talk over pipe clean stuff, I would wallop the lining out of the

Apollo

Matinee daily at 2:30
Evening 7:30 and 9:00
ALL SEATS 10c

PHOTOPLAYS OF THE HIGHEST TYPE.

A big feature daily.

MONDAY

Pallas Pictures present

DUSTIN FARNUM
And Winifred Kingston in DAVID GARRICK
Paramount

TUESDAY SPECIAL

The $670,000 star

CHARLES CHAPLIN

In the first of his Mutual productions

THE FLOOR WALKER

With other features.

WEDNESDAY

The incomparable

Mary Pickford
In a drama of humanity
The Eternal GRIND
Paramount

THURSDAY

Kitty Gordon

In a dramatic thunderbolt

Her

Maternal Right

World Film.

FRIDAY

Theodore Roberts

In Mark Twain's

PUDD'N HEAD WILSON

Paramount

SEE PEG O' THE RING WITH FRANCIS FORD, GRACE CUNARD and other Universal stars TONIGHT AT Princess

BEVERLY THEATRE BEAUTIFUL
Special For Today
Big Double Triangle Program
EDITH REEVES and FRANK MILLS in
"THE MORAL FABRIC"
5 Acts.
Extra Added Feature Today
HANK MANN in
"THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH"
3-act Keystone Comedy.
Big Special Feature Show Today
7:15—TWO SHOWS TONIGHT—8:45

SPECIAL FOR SUNDAY.
Special Triangle Program
MAE MARSH in "HOODOO ANN"
5 Acts.
JOE JACKSON in
"GYPSY JOE"
2 Acts (Keystone comedy)
MONDAY, RETURN ENGAGEMENT
Marguerite Courtot in "FEATHERTOP"

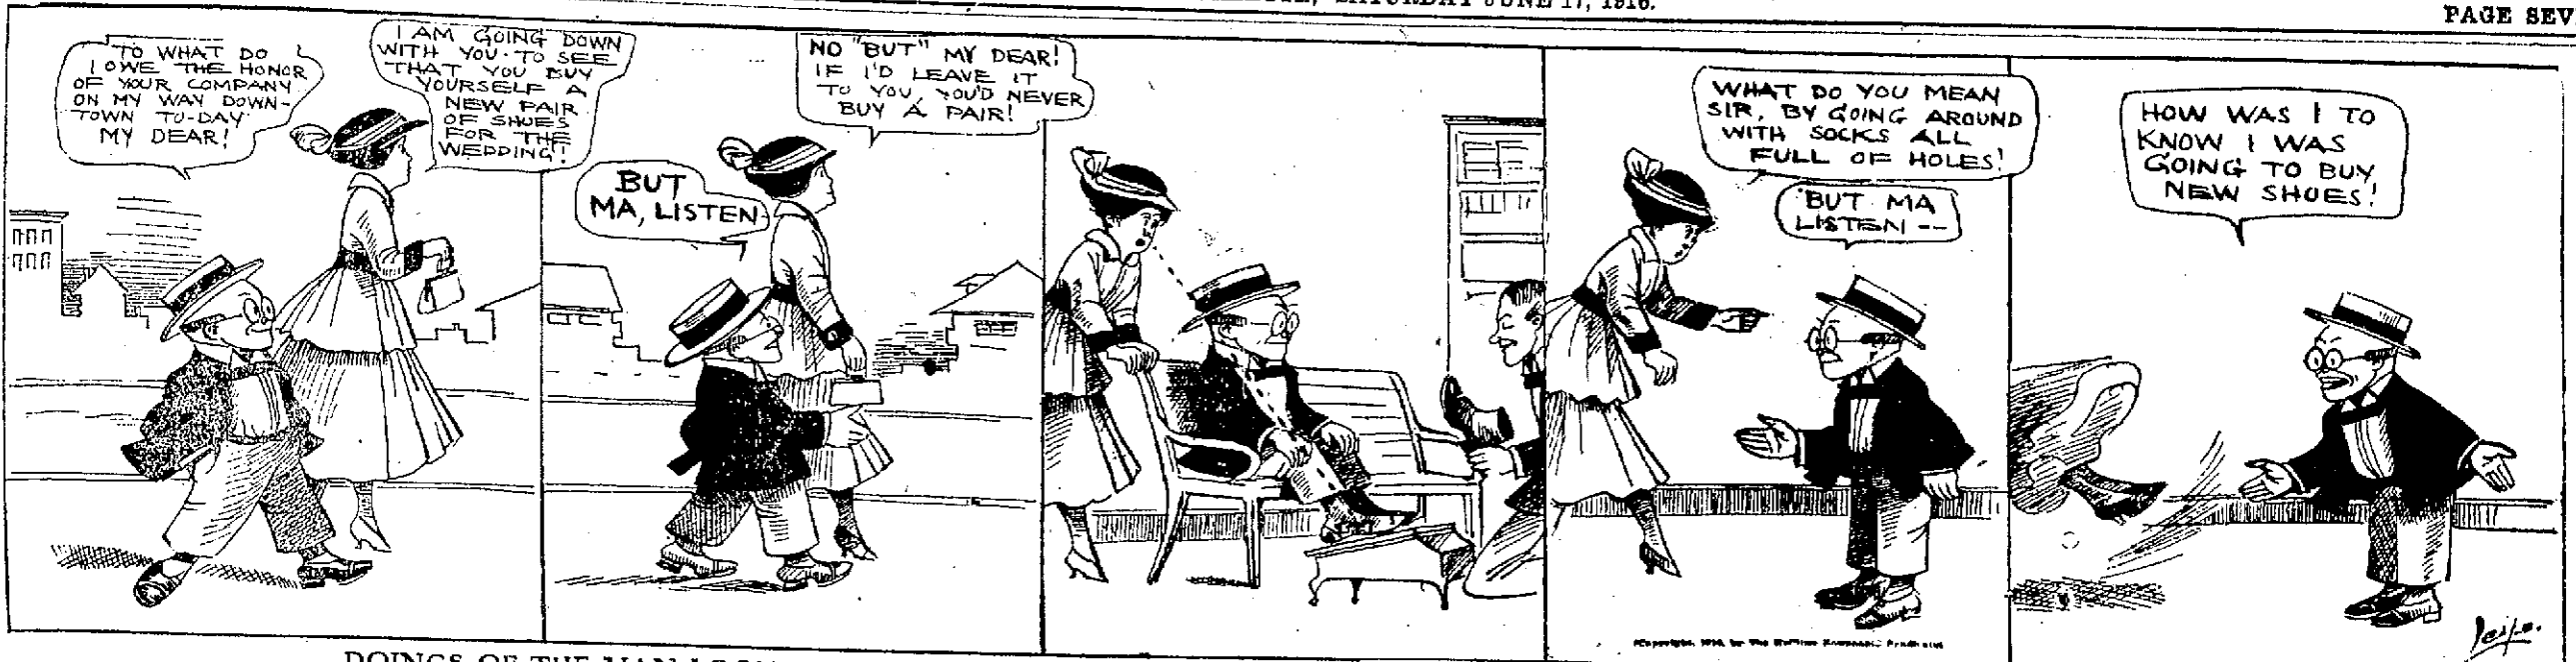

VISIT HARLEM PARK

SUNDAY JUNE 18

Roller Skating
Afternoon and Evening

Dancing
Band Concert

Round Trip Via.
Interurban 75c

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—Yes, Father Should Have Been Forewarned

BY F. LEIPZIGER

THE NEW CLARION

By...
WILL N. HARBEN

Copyright, 1914, by Harper & Brothers

"I've come to the conclusion that a body can't improve his condition by dragging it across a continent. I reckon I acted sorter builded. My second wife—you know her—well, she was born an' brought up in this country, an' she was agin' goin' to Texas with an' mail. We had it up an' down, me an' her did. Every night, after we'd get the children in bed we'd set out in front of the house an' jower, jower, jower. She'd five-year old'n' I an' an' got a head like a horse. It's

"I shan't tell you all I think about her," Mary answered.

the longest one the Lord ever made from the chin to the little knot she wears on top, an' I begin to think it's not sense in it. She contended that Texas wasn't a bit better fer a man with a wife an' whole raft of children than this section. Well, that went on, an' she finally agreed to let me go see what it was like. I sold the mule for enough to buy a round trip prospectors' ticket. Then I bought a new suit of clothes—this I got on—from Tarpy, an' then on a credit an' started off, an' had rotten luck from the start."

When Baker left him Howard's mood had quite increased. The man's comment had quite completed his dissatisfaction over his project. His bet-ter judgment told him that he had been wrong in making such an important decision in a hasty, and yet he had too much pride to admit his error. He did not want to leave home now, but he saw no way out of it.

On the corner of the street he suddenly met Mary Trumbly. She suddenly dropped her eyes and then smiled sweetly.

"Early for me to get in, isn't it?" she asked. "Uncle Ab was coming and brought me along in his buggy. I have some things to buy for mother."

He took her hand and experienced a certain reluctance to releasing it. She often comforted him in trouble. He yearned now to open his heart to the boundless sympathy he knew she would have for him.

"I looked for you at the dance last night," he said, turning and walking toward her. "I thought you were to be there."

day I dined with you at the hotel I heard her say she had no use for women—that she liked only men. I am not finding fault, but I can't get on with a girl who talks like that. She had an eye for everything I had on and seemed to me to be sneering at my poor clothes."

"Oh, you girls, you girls!" Howard laughed. "You don't want to understand one another. Cora Langham is not a bit like that, and I've no doubt that she may misjudge you also."

"I shan't tell you all I think about her," Mary answered. "It would do no good, anyway, since you are going away."

"I know you think she is a flirt," Howard returned half tentatively. "You hinted at something of the sort when she first came to Dorsey."

Mary shrugged her shoulders, and her lip curled slightly. "Why are we always discussing her?" she demanded coldly. "Is there nothing else for us to talk about the day before you leave?"

"Yes, oh, yes," he said, with a frown, "and my father too. I am not going to part with him in anger if I can help it."

"Oh, I'm so glad to hear you say that," Mary's eyes shone as if from rising tears. "After all, he is your father and cannot help feeling as he does. He belongs to an earlier age than ours, Howard."

They were now at the door of Tarpy's lively establishment. The young proprietor, a man of medium height and weight, was directing two clerks in arranging great stacks of dress goods on the sidewalks. He was partly bald, wore a brown mustache and had a merry, active air. Seeing the two friends, he greeted them smilingly, shaking hands with Mary with a slight touch of awkwardness.

"I cut that dance out, Miss Mary," he said. "When I got your message I kept on my working clothes and spent the time checking off the invoice of a big shipment of notions that had just come from New York. I closed the front door and kept hard at it till midnight. I could hear the saving of the fiddles and that negro calling the figures, but it didn't bother me. A live business man can't keep pace with these nimble toed society chaps. I've got to make this thing go."

He waved his hand toward the interior of the store. "I'm walking this sleepy old town up with modern business methods. I hold that the best field for energy is in the slow places. You see, every move you make and every act you put out attracts attention. If I was Howard, now, I'd think twice before I quit old Dorsey. If I was him I'd take up the seeds and start me a sheet of my own that would make the Clarion take a back seat and quit altogether."

"That's what I've often told him," Mary answered, with a timid glance at Howard, "but he has made up his mind to go."

Leaving Mary to make her purchases, Howard turned away. At the postoffice he met Abner Daniel with some papers and letters in his hands. Abner touched him on the arm and drew him to one side. "Have you bought your ticket yet?" he asked.

"No, not yet," Howard answered. "It is ready for me, though. I can get it at any moment."

Abner seemed to hesitate. He rolled his quid of tobacco between his short, yellow teeth and said: "I want to ask you a favor, Howard. You may think it peculiar, an' I ain't quite ready to explain, but would you mind not buyin' your ticket till I see you?"

"Ah, you are thinking of going with me, Good?" the young man exclaimed gladly.

"No, that hain't it," Abner said. "I won't say now why I want you to wait, but will you do it? I'll see you ag'in today."

"Of course I will," Howard promised. "I was not going to get my ticket till tomorrow anyway."

"All right, I'll see you after awhile," Abner said in a tone of relief, and he turned away.

CHAPTER III.

Negotiations.

ABNER moved along the street till he reached the corner. Here he paused and looked back almost stealthily. "I hope he won't come to the office for a few minutes anyway," he mused.

"Old Hillhouse is up there at work, an' I must see him alone. The whole thing may slip up. He's so cranky he don't know his mind from one minute to the next."

Just then Abner saw Howard going down the street toward the cotton compress and flour mill. "Now's the time," he said, and he walked rapidly to the office of the Clarion and ascended the stairs. He found the editor in the main room, a crescent shaped green shade tied above his eyes.

"Good mornin', old boss," Abner said lightly. "I was pussin' an' thought I'd run up an' ax ef I was due you anything on my subscription. I'm a terrible hand to forget dates. I can't remember exactly when I paid you the last time."

"Sorry to say you don't owe me anything," Hillhouse answered gloomily. "My list of delinquents is long enough. The Lord knows, but you are not on it. Did you read what I said last week about folks that won't pay for their home paper? I think I bit 'em a few swipes that they won't forget soon. The meanest type of a man on earth is the one that won't pay for a weekly paper. Folks expect you to print long accounts of their births, deaths, weddings and descriptions of their prize pumpkins and watermelons, but jest hint to them that their subscription is due and that you need the bare necessities of life and they get hopping mad."

"I've always thought it was a powerful pore business," Abner walked to the rusty, upright stove in the center of the room, opened the door and spat upon the rubbish it contained. "An' I've wondered often what you fellows see in the game to hold you so tight."

"I'll tell you," Hillhouse said, with frank weariness. "We get our money tied up in a plant of this sort, an' we never see a good chance to get it out. You know, my daddy owned the Clarion before me. It was his pride. He saw it through the war, issued it in monthly installments while we were refugees farther south and paper was as scarce as coffee. I hate to see the thing die a natural death, but it is certainly on the down grade."

Abner heaved a sigh which was boring for food on his brow and glanced about the untidy room. His eyes lighted on a big bale of white sheets of paper. "Is that what you print on?" he inquired carelessly.

"Yes, that's our patent inside sheets," Hillhouse explained. "We get 'em by freight. One side is already printed, and the stuff is good enough considering its low cost. There is a lot of good pictures, too, and we can't get up pictures to do any good here in the mountains. There is still another labor saving method, and that is to buy the stereotype plate matter by the column, but that costs more than the sheets."

Abner's face lit up with shrewd design. "I understand something now that was a puzzle to me," he said. "I've heard lots of folks ax why it was that one side of the Clarion always looked so clean an' neat. Moreover, when I was in lower Alabama last winter I was harin' you send me my paper. You remember, an' down that I picked up the County Record, that had word for word the same in it that mine did. Even the same old medicine ads. were the same and in the same position. I heit 'em side by side an' compared 'em line fer line. At first I 'lowed the editor in Alabama was stealin' your thunder an' started to write to you to institute suit, but the two papers had the same date, an' so I let the matter drop."

"You can't help that if you use patent," Hillhouse said. "Now and then a subscriber gets on to it an' comes in to ask about it, but we get out of it some way."

"Seems to me I heard you say you offered the Clarion for sale awhile back, offered to trade it fer land or a house an' lot somers," Abner had never spoken so carelessly. He went to the stove again, this time returning without his exhausted quid.

"Yes, I ran a little notice at the head of the editorial page," Hillhouse removed the shade from his eyes and wiped his spectacles on a piece of paper. "But nobody took the trouble to write me or come in to ask my terms."

At that time I and a notion that I'd like to settle down on land of my own. A man of my age doesn't want to admit that he is getting too old to do a paper full justice these rapid times, but the fact is that I am not the editor I once was by a long shot."

"Couldn't you fix it so you could have both the inside an' out of that patent process?" If Abner was jesting no hint of it occurred to Hillhouse. "It looks like it wouldn't cost a powerful lot more to get the whole business struck off at once. You see, you buy the sheets anyway an' pay freight an' drayage on 'em. In that case you wouldn't have to pay for typesetters here at all, an' that must be quite an item."

"You don't understand, Ab. You've never run a paper or you wouldn't ask such a question. That would never do. You see, we simply must have space left to fill with local matter. Our country contributors must be heard from. Some of them write mighty bright stuff. Besides, folks are dying and being born and want it recorded. Men are running for office and are willing to pay something toward a paper's support. The young folks here in town want an organ for all their doings. Oh, no, we must give at least half the paper to original matter from our own town."

"Then you need a bright young man to take the load off your shoulders. That is Howard Tinsley, though I hear he's off fer Texas, an' I reckon you couldn't get him."

Hillhouse frowned as he replaced his glasses and began to adjust the shade over his eyes. "I couldn't afford to pay him as much as he thinks he ought to have, and there was another big trouble. I had to cut out nearly half of what he wrote, an' he was always mad about it. His hot temper will get him down some day. I'm too old a newspaper man for a young strip like that to argue with. He has his notions and I have mine and they are wide apart."

"It seems to me"—Abner took a piece of a tobacco plug from his pocket and began to cut off a corner with the blade of his pocket knife—"it seems to me that the only sensible thing fer you to do, then, is to sell out an' quit. That's just you an' your wife to make a livin' fer, an' surely you could do better than to stick here till you are both under ground."

EVERYDAY WISDOM

By DON HEROLD

"You offered the Clarion for sale."

per. You remember, an' down that I picked up the County Record, that had word for word the same in it that mine did. Even the same old medicine ads. were the same and in the same position. I heit 'em side by side an' compared 'em line fer line. At first I 'lowed the editor in Alabama was stealin' your thunder an' started to write to you to institute suit, but the two papers had the same date, an' so I let the matter drop."

"You can't help that if you use patent," Hillhouse said. "Now and then a subscriber gets on to it an' comes in to ask about it, but we get out of it some way."

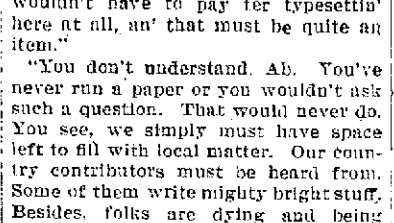

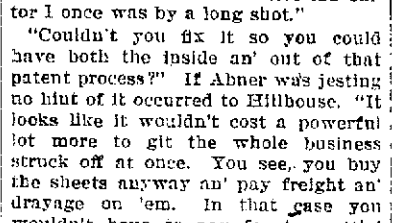

"Seems to me I heard you say you offered the Clarion for sale awhile back, offered to trade it fer land or a house an' lot somers," Abner had never spoken so carelessly. He went to the stove again, this time returning without his exhausted quid.

"Yes, I ran a little notice at the head of the editorial page," Hillhouse removed the shade from his eyes and wiped his spectacles on a piece of paper. "But nobody took the trouble to write me or come in to ask my terms."

At that time I and a notion that I'd like to settle down on land of my own. A man of my age doesn't want to admit that he is getting too old to do a paper full justice these rapid times, but the fact is that I am not the editor I once was by a long shot."

"Couldn't you fix it so you could have both the inside an' out of that patent process?" If Abner was jesting no hint of it occurred to Hillhouse. "It looks like it wouldn't cost a powerful lot more to get the whole business struck off at once. You see, you buy the sheets anyway an' pay freight an' drayage on 'em. In that case you wouldn't have to pay for typesetters here at all, an' that must be quite an item."

"I'll leave my umbrella here, while I go into this office."

Dinner Stories

"Say, Reed," said Higgins, as he met a friend, "do you know why you are like a donkey?"

"Like a donkey!" echoed Reed, thoughtfully. "No, I don't."

"Because your better half is stubbornness itself," said Higgins.

"That's not bad," said Reed. "I'll have to try that on my wife when I get home tonight."

Accordingly, when they were at dinner, Reed asked:

"Annie, do you know why I am so much like a donkey?"

He waited a moment, expecting Mrs. Reed would give it up. But, on the contrary, she gazed at him somewhat commiseratingly as she replied:

"I suppose because you were born a king."

The teacher had explained that a monarchy is a country ruled by a king. The pupils got that.

"If the king dies, who rules?" the teacher continued.

Wisdom.

Wisdom has riches in her right hand and honor and long life in her left; but she must be wooed and won for her own sake, not for her dowry. —Lyman Abbott.

Everyday Wisdom

By DON HEROLD

MASTERING THE FUNDAMENTALS OF TRANSPORTATION

HOW TO BECOME A MILLIONAIRE

If you want to be a millionaire, and can arrange it with your parents, one of the very best ways is to have your parents see to the whole thing before you are born. If you fall in to millions immediately, at birth, you are saved the early irritations of selling papers or blacking boots. This first method is known as the Silver-Spoon method.

Another method is the Humble-Start method, and while it makes better biography, it may appeal to you as being rather tedious. For instance, you may have to begin by carrying mules in a livery stable. Then you are graduated to the buggy washing department. In time you become manager of the livery stable, and then, having mastered the rudiments of transportation, it is only natural for you to step into the presidency of a large railroad.

There are a number of short cuts to millions. One of them is to go to Atlantic City, or some other large beach, and gather a small quantity of sand in a sack or bag. Then wait until nightfall, and when some of the rich comes along, slip up behind him and pour a little of the sand down the back of his neck. Pour it pretty hard. If you pour it hard enough, he will probably sit down in a heap, indifferent to what is going on, and you are then entitled to take anything you want out of his pockets. This is known as the Night-Work method. Nearly all millionaires have put in a certain amount of night work

[Processed by George Matthew Adams]

WHERE TO SPEND YOUR VACATION?

This question will not trouble you if you take advantage of the literature for free distribution at the GAZETTE TRAVEL BUREAU. Vacationists will find the material they are interested in securing at the GAZETTE OFFICE.

COME Cruise Through Wonderland!

5-Day Lake Trip $27.50 Meals and Berth Included
GOODRICH "SOO" CRUISE Thursday 1 p. m. to Tuesday 3:30 p. m.
 This fascinating vacation costs less than rail fare to and from most resorts. 1000 mile cruise aboard popular Steamship Georgia. See picturesque Mackinac Isle, Great U. S. Fort, Indian Battle grounds, 6000' locks, which compare in greatness to Panama.

3-DAY OUTING $20.00 Meals and Berth Included
GOODRICH-MACKINAC CRUISE
 600 miles of Nature's smiles along the Illinois-Wisconsin Shore line. Green Bay's scenic maze to Mackinac Island. RESORT BOO! BOO!—A postcard brings it. Park Robbins, G. P. A. Chicago. Geo. A. Jacobs, Local Agt. 12 W. Millw. St. Janesville, Wis.

GOODRICH STEAMSHIP LINES

Water doesn't run up hill

Neither does the most popular train—the only

20th Century Limited

It travels over the Sure-to-Sleep Way—the Only Water-Level Route

Chicago to New York

Lv. Chicago 12:40 noon. Ar. New York 9:40 a. m.

New York Central Railroad

All steel equipment—the last word in appointments for your comfort.

Ten other fast daily trains, including the 23-hour evening train, Lake Shore Limited, and the 22-hour morning train, Lake Shore No. 6.

Apply to your local agent for tickets and sleeping car reservations, or for complete information, call on or address our

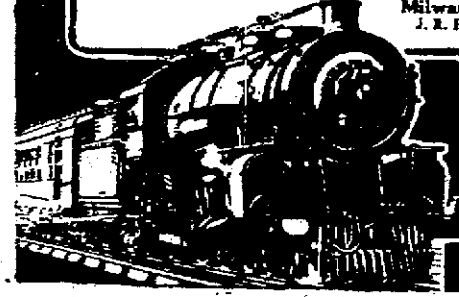

Milwaukee Office, 102 Wisconsin Street

J. R. HURLEY, General Agent Passenger Department

For the Public Service

The Water-Level Route

NOT ALL IS JOY IN REPUBLICAN RANKS

PARTY DISCIPLINE IS LACKING, SAYS USHER, AND MEANS
DANGER OF NEGATION.

WISCONSIN SITUATION

Milwaukee Correspondent Sees Excellent Chance for Badger Democrats in the Coming Election.

By Ellis B. Usher.

Milwaukee, June 17.—A week has rolled around since the Republican convention adjourned and I have yet to meet a Republican who doesn't brag about his victory. There are a few who are not so sure, but they are in the minority. It is too early, perhaps, to diagnose the situation, but a few things seem obvious. No one doubts the ability of the personal high quality of the "Mister" now with an emphasis that sounds a little like a far-away regret that he should still be a "Mister." Americans, notwithstanding country reticence, are people of deep and abiding sentiment, and when they feel deepest they are not noisy. I can't help thinking they are feeling deeply and regretfully, an exigency of party politics that has forced the ancient pride of our highest court to bend. I think I detect a touch of defiance in the tone of the man who sounds the Hughes tocsin, now, that has in it a protest if not an apology.

How Republicans Feel.

The first expression of this feeling came to me in the expression of one of Wisconsin's conspicuous lawyers, a man who voted for McKinley and for Taft, who said just before the nomination:

"I shall be sorry to see Justice Hughes violate that excellent tradition of the supreme court and leave the bench for a political nomination."

The first republican I met, after the nomination, had been in Chicago. He said: "I spent a day there. It didn't seem like any Republican convention I ever attended. I didn't feel at home. I wish they had taken Lodge." This was a former newspaper man. The next Republican I met in with was an active newspaper man, and without any suggestion from me he began by saying: "Hughes is not to blame because the pro-German element are supporting him. He can't help that." And he concluded, somehow, that Hughes would prove a strong candidate. The next Republican I met said: "It looks like Wilson, don't it?" The next: "don't see what he can run on, have you not met a Republican who underates the strength of Wilson, or the difficulty of defeating him. That is a faithful report on the first four republicans I met. I got an expression and on several others. Two of them were men of much more than local reputation, and the others men of excellent local standing. I met also a Bull Moose from a western state, a man of some prominence in his party. He was bitter and said that Roosevelt had been sold out. This man, although a strong protestant, had hard work to vote against Wilson.

The situation reminds me of the nomination of Benjamin Harrison in 1888. It is not unlike Harrison, except that he lacks the broader experience, and Harrison's felicity of expression. He is, as Harrison was, intellectual, rather than human, and he comes from a different time. Since 1888 when a Republican convention has been held more than once to choose a candidate. Then there was enough party discipline to save Harrison, though he was not re-elected. Party discipline is lacking now, and it looks as if the Republicans were in danger of mere negation. That is always the peril of a party out of power.

Success as a Handicap.

Wilson, as well as his platform, were made before the St. Louis convention met last Wednesday, and despite that fact, it was a gathering with a "tail" and a head in it. It is because the Democrats have the responsibility and ardor of "doing things." The campaign will soon develop whether or not they are over-whelmed with fair prospects. Success is harder for most men than adversity and when a party is having success it is often, like individuals, in straits.

Wisconsin will illustrate the last point, and it may also, measurably, illustrate the national situation. The Republicans are torn into factions, and it looks like a hopeless state of things. "Bob" is dead, but his ghost still haunts his followers. McGovern is determined, and Phillips must go. He can't let go, and he really is the best of the three-cornered game, as it now stands. It now looks as if "Burt" Williams would be the Democratic nominee for governor and W. P. Wolfe for the United States senate. With this start and a platform that Paul Huston can fight for, the Republicans will be kept busy if they get anything in Wisconsin this year. The Democrats are safe, unless they start too many candidates for everything, just because the outlook is hopeful, and sink the life-raft themselves. They have been known to do such things as that and self-restraint is a rare virtue.

Home Rule Decision.

After many long denunciations of the Home Rule and Taxpayers' League, during the campaign of 1914 and since, it is now in the campaign in publishing appeals to the people against state extravagance, and proposed constitutional amendments, now has the approval of the supreme court of Wisconsin. The court holds that the attempt of the league practices act to restrain the freedom of citizens to discuss such public questions, so long as their appeal is not malicious, is contrary to the constitutional right of free speech. This decision, if properly weighed by those who have denounced the league, individually and collectively, and who have said that it should report its expenses like a political organization, should make a deep impression. The sentiment behind that feature of the law, and which critics unconsciously no doubt, was a spirit of all opposition, a spirit that would invoke a democratic despotism of public opinion to put any opponent against it in a character, even at the peril of its own freedom. We have had a lot of that dangerous spirit in Wisconsin in recent years and it is well to have it checked. All such laws are shortsighted, narrow attempts to use noble machinery for ignoble purposes. The calling of a La Follette convention for next week is an illustration along similar lines of the "primary principle" to do the impossible and restrain freedom of action, which is a bulwark of liberty.

Prepare Parade in Milwaukee.

Milwaukee is determined to have a parade for preparedness. The Wisconsin branch of the National Security league has taken the lead and a committee of fifty leading citizens has been appointed to take charge of the arrangements. The date has not yet been announced, but it will be during June, undoubtedly. There is every prospect, I am told, of enthusiastic co-operation and a big parade may be expected. Milwaukee will turn out its present indications can be depended upon for the secretary of the league is getting a great many interested inquiries every day from persons who want to take part.

Sports Comment.

Amateur baseball, from the kiddies up to the semi-professional, has a high place among American school boys, and it still retains among that class of athletes. It has developed in Milwaukee so it is organized into local classes and leagues, and so far this spring has been so cold and that baseball has not been going with the usual enthusiasm. A league has been organized under the auspices of the Daily Journal and the graded schools have leagues, but there it stops. In our high school athletics baseball is with out prestige. The majority of the high schools in the other Wisconsin cities have a sort of schedule of interscholastic games. But the type of school, as a rule, ends its year during the first week of June, and the few weeks of play during the cold spring weather, blossoming buds from the country and village boy the opportunities of the boy in the city school; practice, better coaching, and above all, the opportunity to watch professional stars in action, and the country high school, would contribute to the arrangement and the vigor, and the possession of clean habits, he is quick, keen, and an accurate thinker. So I say he would utilize keen judgment and mechanical accuracy that makes him a star in the game. It is the individual's mental as well as physical ability to outguess, outwit and outplay the opposing batter, and that alone, why, without taints interest in baseball. Without individualism, baseball would be too mechanical, a wear and monotonous affair, that would never have made its place as our "national game." But when individualism gets to be feudalism between opposing players, umpires and managers, as were the indications the last few seasons, the game will give way to others, in which, as I have always maintained, the mass of "fans" may fully participate.

Erie Route Opened.

The embargo has been opened on the Erie for a week past, and the Wisconsin office has been accepting New York and Brooklyn deliveries, carload and less than carload lots, with the exception of export goods, which can be taken in most cases on special arrangement and automobiles for the 28th street. For New England points, Boston & Albany, Boston & Maine, and New York, New Haven and Hartford roads, practically everything in the way of carload business can be handled, and export routes are open by way of Philadelphia and Baltimore. General Agent Phelan's office has been very busy for the past few days handling the business which followed this announcement, and there is no present indication of a further blockade. Whenever there is doubt about prompt deliveries the Erie keeps its customers informed. That is the sort of service and attention that Mr. Phelan and his assistants endeavor to render to shippers, not carelessly, "any old time," but promptly, while it is of value.

Shock Notes.

In the wreck that occurred in Chicago there were a great many casualties, several fatal. Among the Moose and other wounded there are many as yet not accounted for, but I look as if some of the cripples thought they could limp right over into the Wilson wagon and take the reins.

George R. Fox of Appleton, who has been a member of the Wisconsin Archeological society, has recently accepted the position of curator of the museum of the Nebraska State Historical society at Lincoln. The Nebraska society is wide-awake and Mr. Fox will do his part to keep it in the path of progress.

Sky Hitching Posts.

Harry—"Swiftly is right up to the times."—Hattie—"What has he done now?"—Harry—"Why, he's been looking ahead a little and in a day or two will finish the construction of a patent aerial roost for airship pilots who want to tie up for an hour or two."

The Plate's the Thing

The most important part of the storage battery is the plate, the inside element—the hidden part—so be sure you look well to the inside of the battery before you buy.

Paint and pretty words do not give power. Do not be deceived by them.

USL starter batteries are equipped with the marvelous machine-pasted plates which make them last longer than any other starter batteries on the market.

USL starter batteries are guaranteed for fifteen months—so try a USL next time. Free inspection for your battery any time. Built in sizes to fit all cars.

F. B. BURTON
111 N. Jackson St.
Janesville, Wis.
USL Service Station

Willard

Take the Plunge

The sooner you learn what Willard Service means towards good starting and lighting, the better you'll be satisfied. Come on in, the water's fine.

Janesville Contracting Co.
Office at Janesville Electric Co.

Free inspection of any battery at any time

TWENTY BOYS SIGNED UP IN PIG CONTEST

Boys of County Becoming Interested in Pig Feeding Contest—Information on Pig Feeding.

Twenty or more boys have already signed up in the big Rock county pig feeding contest and still more are expected to enter the contest in a few days. L. A. Markham, secretary of the Rock County Y. M. C. A., and Peter V. Kuhn, secretary of the Commercial club, made a tour of the county Wednesday and met with decided success in getting new entrants to the contest.

Boys and girls who expect to enter the contest and those who have already signed up can get some valuable pointers from the following article sent out by the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeders' association:

"Your success as a pig raiser depends very largely on the way you feed them. Feeding is the important part of the pig raising game and must be understood. All farmer boys know what pigs like to eat; how they relish corn and a slop made of some ground feed and some skim milk. But unlike the cow or horse the pig cannot eat large amounts of coarse feeds such as hay or straw. Then you have also noticed that young pigs eat different feeds than older pigs that are being fattened for market. And how often have we seen the old sow when she has a litter of pigs and is kept in the pen for a long time, try to eat the mortar from between the stones in the wall, or rot in the earth to find small stones, and crush them between her teeth and swallow them. Many a farmer has also had trouble raising pigs because the mother pig has often eaten her own young. Have you ever wondered about these things? They can all be explained and it is a nice to know about them before one tries to raise pigs so he can feed them right."

In order to tell you about the secrets of feeding we must use a few big words which at first you may think have little or nothing to do with pigs. But they have, and they are just as important with other classes of livestock also.

"The first word is protein. Muscles are made largely of protein. This is the part of the feed that makes the young pigs grow. Milk is rich in protein and corn is not. That is why the young growing pig lives mostly on milk and eats but little corn until later in life. The sow that is soon to give birth to a litter of pigs must receive lots of feed rich in protein and less corn, so that she can build up the bodies of the little pigs. The sow that eats her young has a great desire for feed containing much protein, and for lack of anything better she eats her own pigs. How she would enjoy a little tankage in her feed each day, and feeding it a litter of nice pigs might be saved. Protein is a most important part of any ration."

Whitewater News

Whitewater, June 17.—The herd of splendid dairy cattle belonging to Julius Trutt were catted last week and it was found that eighteen of the twenty-five mature animals were suffering from tuberculosis. Nine of them were pure bloods and the other nine were high grades.

George W. Sperbeck, Perry Lewis and C. W. Coppins attended a shoot at Beloit Tuesday and got inside the prize money with 137 birds out of 150.

John Ward and John Zuili are back from Waukesha, where they have been taking the mud baths.

Leverett Yoder returned the first of the week from Fort Sheridan, where he spent four days last week taking entrance examinations for West Point Military Academy. There are now three vacancies and young men from all parts of the United States wrote in competition for appointments.

Mrs. Hannah Keller and Miss Olive visited friends here Tuesday and Wednesday, after an absence of five years. Four of those years have been spent in Robstown, Texas, and last winter they were at Los Angeles.

Mrs. David Godfrey is visiting her daughter, Mrs. James Casserly, and family, in Chicago.

Miss Ida Cravath has gone to Nashville, Tenn., to teach art in the summer school there.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. King left the latter part of the week on an eastern trip, taking in many of the large cities. They will visit their son in Philadelphia and their daughter in Hartford, Conn.

Frank Saunders is visiting at the Blackman home.

Miss Alma Fryer left Thursday for Toledo to visit her mother, John, for a month.

David McCree of Oconto Falls, Wis., visited his mother George and family Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Green and three children are here and will occupy the J. O. Green house while the father and mother are at the lake.

Mrs. Emma Bowers Messervy visited here a few days this week and to be present at the graduation of her son Russell. They leave Sunday for Toronto.

Mrs. Marion Kinney Adams and daughter of Columbus, Neb., are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kinney.

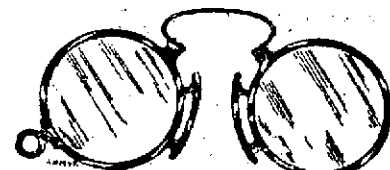

Mrs. Lucy Grabenke of Chicago was here Wednesday evening to see her son Albert graduate.

Mrs. Edward Ralsh and daughter Marion visited at the H. H. Green home on Friday evening. They were on their way home to Cleveland, Ohio, from River Falls, Wis.

Mrs. Martha Sheppard, who has been at Los Angeles, Cal., since December, returned on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Millard came home Wednesday, after a two weeks' visit at Cedar Rapids, Manchester and Independence, Iowa. Most of the time was spent at Manchester, the home of their daughter, Mrs. Will Nickerson. Arthur Kildow is spending a few days in Chicago.

The Milwaukee Designers play the local team here Sunday. The high school senior class is having a picnic today at Turtle Lake.

YOUR eyeglasses are the windows through which you see things as they are; they correct the defects of nature and give you the right idea of what is going on around you.

When you consider eyeglasses in this way, it is easy to see the importance of superlative quality in their manufacture. You cannot afford to pay for any materials but the best.

Everything we use here is supplied by makers who are known to be beyond criticism. These materials are the best that we can buy, finished in our own shop, but you pay us no more for them.

You owe it to yourself to insist on quality in the eyeglasses you wear; we can satisfy you as to the quality of the kind we supply you.

THE OPTICAL SHOP

EVERYTHING OPTICAL
50 SOUTH MAIN ST.
NEXT TO THE
CARROLL LIBRARY
JANESVILLE, WIS.

This advertisement will surely interest you

It won't if you are a speed maniac—or if you are planning to turn most of your motor trips into long cross country tours. But on the other hand if you are one of the vast majority of sane and sensible men who have neither need nor desire for extravagant speed or super-power you will be vitally interested.

It isn't that the electric-powered automobile is so superior in any one feature alone but that it is superior in so many intensely desirable features that makes it worth your serious consideration.

First—an electric certainly has power—it will take steep hills and go through heavy roads steadily and surely.

Second—an electric has speed—its maximum of 25 miles per hour is more than you'll need—more than the law will let you use.

Third—an electric has practical beauty (not faddish conceptions)—both inside and out.

Fourth—an electric is a mighty comfortable car—and comfort is a feature of prime value. The seats are generously wide, there's plenty of knee room and the upholstery is restful, luxuriously deep.

Fifth—an electric is simplicity itself from a mechanical viewpoint. There's but one moving part to the motor and that rotates. And because of this extreme simplicity an electric needs but little attention.

Sixth—the electric is a reliable car—always ready for use day or night, winter or summer, the whole year through. It is in your service well-nigh continuously from the day you get it.

Seventh—the electric costs very little to run as compared to cars of other types. Those driving electric cars who formerly drove gasoline cars—and there are more of them than you might think—positively state that the cost of an electric is from 30% to 50% less month in and month out.

Eighth—the last fact we wish to drive home to you who are considering buying an automobile is this—as a family car the electric is absolutely in a class by itself. There is no other car that can be driven so easily and expertly by people unfamiliar with the operation of an automobile. Any member of your family—your mother, wife, daughter or son—can drive an electric with perfect safety and security. Better have a real demonstration in a modern electric-powered automobile—it will surprise you. Remember the electric car of today is vastly different from the electric car of a few years ago.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR
The More the Merrier—You Are With the Majority When You Own a Ford.

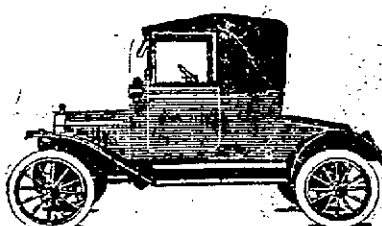

The Demand For
FORD CARS

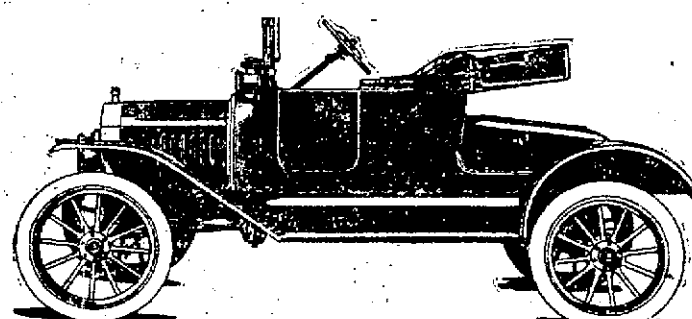

Do the Sensible Thing and Buy a Ford for Real Service, Pleasure and Comfort.

The Unprecedented Demand for Ford Cars Is Due to Real Merit

Tried under every condition on all sorts of roads in every climate, anywhere and everywhere, they have made good.

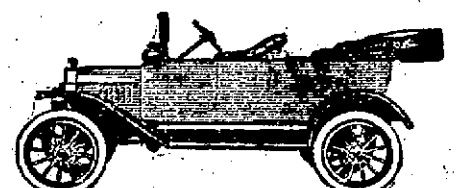

There is No Pleasure You Can Give Your Family That Will Compare With a Ford.

Touring Car... $440 F. O. B. Detroit, Mich.
Runabout... $390 F. O. B. Detroit, Mich.
Chassis... $360 F. O. B. Detroit, Mich.

ROBERT F. BUGGS
Salesroom 12-18 N. Academy St.

With a Ford You Can Go Anywhere and Be Sure of Getting Back.

FORD SERVICE

Our facilities for overhauling and giving perfect service for FORD CARS is up to FORD standards, which is another way of saying they are perfect. Special FORD repairing appliances, tools, etc., identical with those of the factory have been installed. Complete stock of all parts assures no loss of time waiting for repairs.

PETEY DINK—WHY DIDN'T HE BRING THE TANK IN WITH HIM?

CREWS MUST BATTLE IN WIND AND RAIN ON HUDSON COURSE

Rough Weather Changes Dope on Poughkeepsie Regatta.—Columbia's Inside Course Is an Advantage.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 17.—The regatta of the Universities of Cornell, Columbia, Syracuse and Pennsylvania was confronted early today with the most unfavorable weather prospects for their 22nd annual regatta to be rowed on the Hudson this afternoon. The wind was from the southeast and a drizzling rain promised to dampen the enthusiasm of the thousands of college men arriving for the battle of sweeps.
A continuation of the wind from the southeast, and the strong ebb tide will make the course exceptionally rough. Much speculation has arisen in case the crews have to row in rough water. In such an event, it is conceded that the inside course held by Columbia in the big race will have an advantage. As Syracuse and Cornell have courses three and four and two mile respectively, the advantage of Columbia over her most dangerous rivals furnishes a knotty problem. Coach Rice has prided himself on the ability of his big crew to row in rough water and his team's manliness in this respect has been demonstrated many times in practice. It is not going to be a last mile race if the prediction of the wise ones prevails. A thrilling contest, however, for the first mile and brains as well as brawn and muscle will figure in the success.

A Hundred Oarsmen.
Close to one hundred oarsmen, representing four of the eastern universities, will participate in the twenty-second annual regatta of the Interstate Rowing association on the Hudson river here this afternoon. Cornell, Columbia, Syracuse and Pennsylvania have each entered eight-oared crews in the four mile varsity, two mile junior and two mile freshman events, and close contests are expected in all of these races.
Not in recent years have the crews been so evenly matched. The outcome of the regatta is therefore more uncertain than in years past. Unseasonable weather conditions have prevailed both on local and home waters during the major portion of the outdoor training period and few if any of the competing crews have rowed for any length of time in fixed or permanent order. Changes and shuffles have been the order rather than the exception at all the rowing quarters and the coaches were in doubt until the last few days regarding the final make-up of the crews.

All Have a Chance.
Even the date of the regatta is unusually early and for a time, earlier in the season, it appeared as though the races would be held yearly, but one exception since 1895, would be transferred to another course. While these weather conditions and uncertainties have handicapped both the rowers and the spectators, the regatta and in fact have rather increased the enthusiasm, since it is conceded that the three races tomorrow are exceptionally open and the outcome likely to be in doubt until the last stroke in the event.

The regatta will be lacking in national character this year, however, as for the first time in five years the Pacific coast will not be represented by a crew. Neither Washington, Stanford has an eight on the course, although earlier in the spring it appeared likely that one or both would cross the continent to test their rowing prowess against the leading colleges. On their records here in past years and judging from the reports that have come east this season, the Pacific coast oarsmen would have been a decided handicap to the teams from the lack of a decided winner in the four mile race—the big event of the regatta.

Veteran Coaches.
Three of the four coaches who will boat crews in the contests today are veterans of the Poughkeepsie course and noted for their ability to whip their oarsmen into winning combinations at the eleventh hour. Rice of Columbia, Courtney of Cornell and Ten Eyck of Syracuse have all sprung big surprises in their day. None of them is making any predictions on the eve of the regatta and the forecasters are obliged to base their predictions upon what the eights have shown since their arrival here. The few time trials which have been made when the clocks are present, watch in hand.

Because of many shifts in the personnel of the crews during the season, the results of the preliminary races of the spring have little or no bearing upon the probable outcome of the events. On May 13 the Columbia and Pennsylvania eight took part in the child's cup one mile 550 yards race at Philadelphia, finishing respectively third and fourth to Princeton and the Navy crews. Two weeks later Cornell defeated the same Princeton crew by a quarter of a length in a two mile race but the oarsmen were not the same combination which now occupies the Cornell varsity shell.

Syracuse the Same.
Fewer changes have been made in the Syracuse four mile crew than in the other eights and in some respects the Orange varsity crew is the dark horse of the regatta. In the one preliminary race in which Syracuse took part this season, the Ten Eyck combination defeated the Navy crew on May 20 by a length and a quarter in a two mile race in 10 minutes 17 seconds. Previous to this race the Navy had won from Pennsylvania by two lengths in a race of a little less than a mile and a half and defeated both Columbia and Pennsylvania in the child's cup race.
More than ordinary interest attaches

COLUMBIA VARSITY CREW IN PERFECT TRIM AFTER TRIAL ON HUDSON COURSE; ALL SET TO WIN BIG POUGHKEEPSIE REGATTA

Columbia's varsity crew.

Coach Rice of Columbia has been preparing his men carefully for the big regatta at Poughkeepsie and has recently been sending his crews over the Hudson river course. All the men are in their best trim and Columbia has high hopes of winning the season's biggest water affair. The members of the first varsity crew shown in the picture are (left to right): Stroke, D. W. Lyles; No. 7, R. O. Pennell; No. 6, Capt. W. N. Stratton; 5, W. H. Lekman; 4, R. Lahey; 3, R. R. O'Laughlin; 2, O. B. Meyers; bow, C. W. Sengstaken; coxswain, M. Thomas.

to the coaches of two of the crews and the results their pupils achieve in the races this year. In the case of Charles E. Courtney of Cornell, the dean of the American rowing coaches, the regatta of today will be his valedictory. After many years of successful coaching at Ithaca university, Courtney has been obliged to announce his retirement from active work as a result of a fracture of the skull received while enroute from Ithaca to Poughkeepsie for the regatta a year ago. Courtney attempted to renew his coaching after a winter of rest under the care of physicians but was forced to undergo further efforts in this direction shortly after the Cornell crews arrived at Poughkeepsie earlier in the month.

The Penn Crew.
The University of Pennsylvania oarsmen appear under the coaching of a new instructor this season in the person of Joseph Wright, a former Canadian oarsman, who succeeded Victor Nickalls upon the latter's return to England for war service. Wright agreed to coach for one season at Pennsylvania as an experiment. He does not receive any compensation beyond his expenses but the agreement included a future contract at a substantial salary in case Wright's crews make good and he desires to continue as coach after the first season's trial. Thus at the present time rowing with Wright is still an avocation and he preserves his status as an amateur oarsman.

PLAN GOLF TOURNEY OVER KENOSHA COURSE

State Golf Championship Will Be Played at Kenosha August Seventh to Twelfth.

Kenosha, Wis., June 17.—Preliminary plans are completed for the Wisconsin state golf tournament, which will be held on the links of the Kenosha club, beginning on the morning of August 7th and ending with the close of August 12th. On five different occasions the selection of the state championship has been fought out on the lake shore course at the south limits of Kenosha.

Many changes have been made in the Kenosha course in anticipation of the coming tourney. There have been deep bunkers, traps and distances between some of the holes, which have been made more sporty, and consequently low scores will mean something to the tournament golfers this year.
At the recent meeting of the board of directors, it was announced about one hundred and fifty golfers would take part in the qualifying round, and entries are expected from every golf organization in the state. There will be new features to the Kenosha tourney this year, besides the championship competition, along with the team matches for the Yale cup, scheduled for the opening day. This match is open to any five-man team in the state. Kenosha is going to offer new trophies and the state association plans to secure the finest class of cups ever offered at a golf meet in this state.

A. A. Guilbert of Racine, president of the state association, is giving some personal pep into the arrangements this year and the officers who are on the job with him include Guy of Wausau, A. H. Gruenwald of Oshkosh, Al Schaller of Janesville, Griffith of Beloit and W. B. Bullock of Blue Mound.
The president has named a tournament handicap committee consisting of H. Tyrrell, W. E. Bullock, Blue Mound, and James R. Anderson of Kenosha. The tournament committee is made up of A. Schaller of Janesville, C. C. Allen of Kenosha and Secretary Gregg.

He passed the first man up and then picked him off first base with a snap throw. Then he passed the second man and picked him off, and the third batter was also given a base and caught napping, thus ending the game.

CLOUTING OF CUBS' BATTERS A FEATURE

Wildfire Schulte Comes Back and Swings the Club for 338—Speaker Is Second in the American.

Chicago, June 17.—Terrific hitting by the Cubs in the past week put them in the lead in clout hitting in the National league with 265 and gave them three places among the ten batters doing three hundred or better. Average batters published here today, which show that Jake Daubert still heads the list with 345. Max Carey of Pittsburgh has resumed the lead in stolen bases with 18, but in most other departments the Cubs are ahead. Williams in home runs with seven and in total bases with 99; Zimmerman in runs scored with 33, and Plack in sacrifice hits with 19. The league's 300 batters are:

Daubert, Cincinnati, 345; Schulte, Chicago, 338; Doyle, New York, 337; Zimmerman, Chicago, 330; Robertson, New York, 329; Wheat, Brooklyn, 316; Hinchman, Pittsburgh, 313; Williams, Chicago, 306; Wagner, Pittsburgh, 303; Chase, Cincinnati, 301.
The ten leading pitchers who have taken part in ten or more games are:

Won Lost Earned runs
Pfeffer, Brooklyn, 10 2 1.55
Alexander, Phil., 10 1 1.35
Mamaux, Pittsburgh, 8 2 1.39
Rixey, Phil., 8 2 1.64
Hughes, Boston, 5 1 1.05
Demaree, Phil., 5 5 3.16
Laughlin, Chicago, 4 4 2.35
Clemey, Brooklyn, 6 3 1.67
Mitchell, Cincinnati, 6 3 2.29
Anderson, New York, 6 3 2.33

Speaker Still Leads.

Only seven regulars are hitting better than 300 in the American league, and Burns of Detroit has edged into second place. Speaker still leads with 338, is ahead in total bases with 105, and in runs scored with 32. The unusual sight of a catcher's leading the league in stolen bases is shown, with Schalk of Chicago setting pace with 14, one ahead of such speedy men as Cobb and Sider. Graney, Cleveland, leads in home runs with four, and Gandil, Cleveland, in sacrifice hits with 16. Detroit is ahead in team hitting with 256. The 300 hitters, including only those who have played in at least half the games of their clubs, are:

Speaker, Cleveland, 338; Burns, Detroit, 336; Jackson, Chicago, 337; Cobb, Detroit, 331; Heilmann, Detroit, 310; Nunamaker, New York, 308; Smith, Cleveland, 303.
Leading pitchers.
Won Lost Earned runs
Cullop, New York, 5 0 1.30
Cullop, New York, 5 0 1.50
24. Coveleski, Detroit 8 2 2.21
Coulme, Cleveland, 7 3 1.94
S. Coveleski, Cleve., 7 3 1.99
Faber, Chicago, 7 3 3.18
Fahnestock, Boston, 7 4 2.31
Johnson, Wash., 10 6 2.25
Leonard, Boston, 5 3 2.07
Shawkey, New York, 5 3 2.07

Association Batters.
George Stovall, Toledo, has hammered himself into a tie for the batting leadership of the American association with Danabas of Louisville. Each is hitting .329; the former for 42 games and the latter for 41. Thorpe, Milwaukee, leads in stolen bases with 17; Gilbert, Kansas City, in home runs with six; Bradley, Columbus, in sacrifice hits with 17; Leary, Indianapolis, in total bases with 85; and Acosta, Minneapolis, in runs scored with 33. Indianapolis is ahead in team hitting with 268. The 300 hitters are: Daniels, Louisville, 329; Stovall, Toledo, 329; Chappelle, Columbus, 328; Regan, Kansas City, 325; Bronk, Indianapolis, 318; Dolan, Indianapolis, 312; Leary, Kansas City, 307; McCarthy, Louisville, 302; Hargrave, Kansas City, 300; Cruise, St. Paul, 300.

Spring time is moving time. If you have a house to rent, let it be known through a Gazette want ad.

WHITE SOX BATTERS TRIM THE CHAMPIONS

Eddie Collins at Last Comes Through and Delivers the Goods With Bat.

Eddie Collins, the White Sox high priced second sacker, at last comes through and delivered the brand of hitting of which he is capable, and as a result the Sox beat the Champion Boston club at Chicago 7 to 4. The Sox were in a batting mood, and so were the Boston Sox for that matter, but the Chicago crew sewed up the game in the eighth inning, when they counted three runs.

Three pitchers were used by each team. Lefty Williams, the young Sox recruit, who has had a jinx following him all season, started and lasted on the mound until the sixth inning, when Nellie Wolgang took his place, because of wildness. Veteran Gregg was bounced out of the Red Sox slab in the third, when the Chicagoans counted three, and Foster took up the hurling obligations. Eddie Collins made five trips to the plate. He walked the first time up, beat out a bunt, flied out the third time, then doubled, and then topped off the good day's work with a triple. Joe Jackson poked a double and two singles, and was hit twice by the pitcher. A bad break allowed the Red Sox to get a two run lead in the second, when Gardner got a duke no-hit run as Jackson slipped in the eighth, heading off the ball. In the middle Collins' triple counted three, and the Sox won their second straight from the champions.

Chicago's Cubs play their last game at Brooklyn today, before coming to their home lot. Rain kept the Cubs idle yesterday. The Cubs' record on this trip demonstrates that they are better on the road than at home. They have won six games and lost three so far, while on their home lot they have not split even. Four games have been postponed on the eastern swing during the last schedule.
Long Tom Hughes nicked his name in the pitching ball of fame, when he pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Pittsburgh, at Boston, Friday, the Braves winning, 2 to 0. The Boston hurler had great control, passing but two men and fanning seven. Hughes kept the Pirates hitting into the air, and running catches saved Hughes' fanned twice, the last time hitting the air and ending the game.

He had a poor team behind him, and in one game they had made a number of errors which gave the opposition three runs, but when the last inning rolled around "Fats" was leading, 4 to 3. Flaherty was determined to win that game, and he didn't intend to take any chances on the fielders booting the ball.

BASEBALL RESULTS.

Results of Friday's Games.

American League.
Chicago 7, Boston 4.
Detroit 4, Philadelphia 3.
New York 1, Cleveland 1 (game called fourth; rain).
Washington at St. Louis (no game; rain).

National League.
Boston 2, Pittsburgh 0.

American Association.
Columbus 7, Kansas City 2 (12 innings).
St. Paul 8, Indianapolis 2.
Louisville at Minneapolis (no game; rain).
Toledo at Milwaukee (no game; rain).

STANDING OF THE TEAMS.

American League.

Team	W.	L.	P.C.
Cleveland	32	19	.627
Washington	27	23	.540
Detroit	28	24	.538
New York	25	26	.521
Boston	26	25	.510
Chicago	23	25	.479
St. Louis	22	28	.440
Philadelphia	15	32	.319

National League.

Team	W.	L.	P.C.
Brooklyn	28	16	.636
Philadelphia	27	19	.587
New York	24	21	.533
Chicago	25	26	.490
Boston	22	23	.489
Cincinnati	22	27	.449
Pittsburgh	21	26	.447
St. Louis	21	31	.404

American Association.

Team	W.	L.	P.C.
Indianapolis	29	18	.617
Louisville	29	20	.592
Kansas	30	21	.588
Minneapolis	24	22	.522
Columbus	21	21	.500
Toledo	18	23	.439
St. Paul	18	25	.419
Milwaukee	15	34	.306

GAMES ON SUNDAY.

American League.
Washington at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Detroit.
New York at Cleveland.
Boston at Chicago.
National League.
Teams schedule in east.

PACIFIC COAST TENNIS STAR PLAYS FOR TITLE

Del Monte, Cal., June 17.—Will Johnston, Maurice McLoughlin, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy and other nationally famous tennis experts started play today in the annual Pacific coast championships here. One of the features was a sectional junior championship event, open only to lads under 20 years of age. The winners in this division will play in the national tournament at Forest Hills, beginning Aug. 31.

Isn't it So?
A husband usually hangs around the house too much or not enough to satisfy his wife.

If Hair's Your Pride Use Herpicied

If Hair's Your Pride Use Herpicide

STRAW HATS

$1.00 to $3.00
Panamas $3.50 to $5.00

JEGLER CLOTHING CO.

JOS. M. CONNORS, Mgr.

Specialists of Good Clothes and Nothing Else. The Home of John B. Stetson Hats, Wilson Shirts, Lewis Underwear, Mallory Cravettes Hats, Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes.

COME TO JANESVILLE JULY 4th.

The Regular Biennial Celebration Will Be Greater Than Ever

One Entire Day of Grand Free Amusements

300 trained voices in chorus. Public speaking. 4 Bands, Daylight fireworks display in the morning

Famous None Such Bros. Parade At 2 P.M.

Bigger Than Ever With New Features

Old Fashioned Torchlight & Preparedness Parade In Evening
Lodges and Marching Clubs from all parts of Rock County are invited to participate in a body. Floats and colored fireworks will head the parade.

Plenty of Amusements. Something Doing Every Minute.
EVERYTHING FREE

Spend July 4th Janesville

You Are in Need Of a Stimulant! Mr. Business Man

IF YOUR BUSINESS SEEMS TO BE IN A RUT AND IF DAY AFTER DAY YOU CONTINUE TO PLOD ALONG WITHOUT ANY EVIDENT SIGNS OF ADVANCEMENT, YOU WILL FIND THAT YOU ARE BADLY IN NEED OF A "BRACER."

Small places of business find a stimulus for a steady and constant growth by the consistent use of the GAZETTE'S CLASSIFIED PAGE.

A small advertisement run continually on this page and changed occasionally will not cost much, but it will keep your business before the 35,000 readers of the GAZETTE in this county.

Advertising is merely suggesting to the public what to buy and WHERE. The CLASSIFIED PAGE OF THE GAZETTE is read every day by people who are looking for something they want or for someone who can do the work they desire done. SURELY, IF YOUR STOCK OR SERVICE ARE WORTHY OF ANY MERIT, THEY ARE WORTH ADVERTISING.

LET US GET TOGETHER AND SEE WHETHER WE CAN PLAN UPON A SYSTEM THAT WILL BRING ABOUT A NEW ERA IN YOUR BUSINESS.

CALL THE GAZETTE CLASS. DEPT. AND LET US KNOW WHAT YOU ARE INTERESTED IN.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

WHEN YOU THINK OF Insurance, call on C. E. Beers. 1-28-17.

PHARMAS REPAIRED and re-covered. Premo Bros. 1-5-17.

WANTED—Carpenter work of all kinds. H. M. Fitch, Y. M. C. A. 1-16-17.

TAYLOR, VOICE CULTURE—voice placement and development. Central Block, Janesville, Wis. 1-16-17.

SITUATION WANTED, MALE—Wanted—Work for 13 year old boy. 6-17-17.

WANTED—Work of any kind by day or night. Law or garden work. R. C. 1-17-17.

FEMALE HELP WANTED—Wanted—Five bright, capable ladies to travel, demonstrate and sell. 1-17-17.

WIDOWER, age 43, neat appearance and good habits, owns good farm. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Good female cook, write to J. M. Decker, 407 W. Milwaukee. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Laborers Monday morning at 7 o'clock. 407 W. Milwaukee. 1-17-17.

WANTED—A good man to work on farm. J. M. Decker. Phone 592-K. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Monday morning, one good carpenter and two laborers. 1-17-17.

WANTED—To hire, good girl or middle aged woman for housekeeper on farm. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Our illustrated catalogue explains how we teach the barber trade in a few weeks, mailed free. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Man for dairy farm. Married man preferred. Apply Neil Cox. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Man, age 22 to 35, for steady position in Janesville, Wis. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Reliable man to book orders. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Salesmen. Best Punch Board Deals on earth. Brand new commission. $5.00. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Competent cook, family of four; references required. Apply A. P. Lovejoy, 2d floor, 14 West Milwaukee St. 1-17-17.

WANTED—$800 at 6% good security. 1-17-17.

WANTED—A man to scrub out a large barn for the wood. 1550 Mineral. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Miscellaneous. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Automobile casing 5c a lb. 1-17-17.

WANTED—A man to scrub out a large barn for the wood. 1550 Mineral. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Miscellaneous. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Automobile casing 5c a lb. 1-17-17.

WANTED—A man to scrub out a large barn for the wood. 1550 Mineral. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Miscellaneous. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Automobile casing 5c a lb. 1-17-17.

WANTED—A man to scrub out a large barn for the wood. 1550 Mineral. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Miscellaneous. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Automobile casing 5c a lb. 1-17-17.

WANTED—A man to scrub out a large barn for the wood. 1550 Mineral. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Miscellaneous. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Automobile casing 5c a lb. 1-17-17.

WANTED—A man to scrub out a large barn for the wood. 1550 Mineral. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Miscellaneous. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Automobile casing 5c a lb. 1-17-17.

WANTED—A man to scrub out a large barn for the wood. 1550 Mineral. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Miscellaneous. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Automobile casing 5c a lb. 1-17-17.

WANTED—A man to scrub out a large barn for the wood. 1550 Mineral. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Miscellaneous. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Automobile casing 5c a lb. 1-17-17.

WANTED—A man to scrub out a large barn for the wood. 1550 Mineral. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Miscellaneous. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Automobile casing 5c a lb. 1-17-17.

WANTED—A man to scrub out a large barn for the wood. 1550 Mineral. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Miscellaneous. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Automobile casing 5c a lb. 1-17-17.

WANTED—A man to scrub out a large barn for the wood. 1550 Mineral. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Miscellaneous. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Automobile casing 5c a lb. 1-17-17.

WANTED—A man to scrub out a large barn for the wood. 1550 Mineral. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Miscellaneous. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Automobile casing 5c a lb. 1-17-17.

WANTED—A man to scrub out a large barn for the wood. 1550 Mineral. 1-17-17.

WANTED—Miscellaneous. 1-17-17.

COMMON AMERICAN BIRDS

INTERESTING INFORMATION ABOUT THEM SUPPLIED BY THE BUREAU OF BIOLOGICAL SURVEY OF THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

YELLOW-BILLED CUCKOO
(Coccyzus americanus)

Length, about twelve inches. The yellow lower part of the bill distinguishes this bird from its near relative, the black-billed cuckoo.

Range: Breeds generally in the United States and southern Canada; winters in South America.

Habits and economic status: This bird lives on the edges of woodland in groves, orchards, parks, and even in shaded village streets. It is sometimes known as rain crow, because its very characteristic notes are supposed to foretell rain. The cuckoo has sly, furtive ways as it moves among the bushes or flits from tree to tree, and is much more often heard than seen. Unlike the European relative, it does not lay its eggs in other birds' nests, but builds a nest of its own. This is, however, a rather crude and shabby affair—hardly more than a platform of twigs sufficient to hold the greenish eggs. The cuckoo is extremely useful because of its insectivorous habits, especially as it shows a marked preference for the hairy caterpillars which few birds eat. One stomach that was examined contained 250 American tent caterpillars; another, 217 fall webworms. In places where tent caterpillars are abundant they seem to constitute a large portion of the food of this and the black-billed cuckoo.

No Commendation.

"You seem to think a great deal of that candidate."

"How do you arrive at that conclusion?" asked Senator Borgum.

"Why, you have always supported him."

"Yes; but a public man's attitude toward a candidate may be that of the family toward the head of the house. You don't necessarily think any more of a man because you've got to support him."

Heard in an Office

"Have a cigar, old man." "What's the matter with it?" "Nothing, only I've got a better one in my pocket."

Orfordville News

Orfordville, June 16.—Mrs. A. O. Keesey and children of Neosha are spending some time in the village with friends.

On account of there being nine freight cars on the track in the vicinity of Brownstown on Thursday afternoon, there was no regular east-bound four o'clock train.

Mrs. Rose Forbush, who has been spending several weeks in the northern part of the state, returned home on Friday morning.

For the second time within a few days the village was aroused on Thursday afternoon by the sound of the fire bell. The volunteer company made quick response, but in both cases their services were not needed. On Thursday the commotion was caused by the ignition of a defective gasoline stove at the home of Dr. J. N. Wells.

Miss Belle Wee is teaching the parochial school in the Haugen district, and in the village Rev. O. J. Kvale and his son Paul are devoting the forenoons of each day to the same work.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Dunn, who have been spending the week at the Cochran cottage, at Lake Koshkonong, returned home on Friday morning.

Pearl Gardner of Milton College, Ernest Wagley of Beloit College and Mable Osgard of Whitewater normal are home for the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Tollefsrud are entertaining company from Blanchardville.

Miss Margaret Wray of Chicago is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ashby.

Miss Bechel Keisler has gone to Appleton to attend commencement exercises of Lawrence College. Harold Taylor of this place is among the graduates.

Amos Cox of Beloit was in the village for a short time on Thursday.

Dr. S. W. Forbush, who has been ill for the past week, is improving, and expects the gratification of his many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beck visited with friends in Beloit on Thursday.

Charles Sherman and Mrs. Halfhead of Beloit visited at the home of Mrs. Halfhead's sister, Mrs. George Fankhurst, on Thursday.

Next Sunday, at the Lutheran church the ordinance of Confirmation will be observed. A class of fifteen will be confirmed.

F. E. Purdy transacted business in Brodhead on Thursday afternoon.

Roy Gavey and family motored down to Beloit on Thursday morning and spent the day with relatives here.

Elgorth Helmolt, an Orfordville boy, but now of Edgmont, Canada, arrived in the village on Thursday of Thursday. He has for the past eight years been in the employ of the Canadian government, and is now on his first visit to Orfordville in seventeen years.

The Young People's society of the Lutheran church will hold their regular meeting at the church parlors on Friday evening.

Miss Jessie Kelley is spending some time with friends at Rockford, Illinois.

Milton Junction News

Milton Junction, June 17.—Mrs. Watson of Janesville, and Mrs. Charles Collier and daughter of Deland, South Dakota, spent Friday with Rev. and Mrs. Webster Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Fulton are spending the week end with Roy Brandt and family at Madison.

Mrs. Jennie Godfrey has returned from her Walworth visit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Stone spent yesterday with Janesville friends.

Mrs. Fred Johnson and daughter, Miss Helen, are in Madison to attend the Adventist camp meeting.

The Ladies Aid of the M. E. church met with Mrs. J. M. Stockman Friday afternoon.

The Misses Louis Butts, Edna Davy and Alice Hull are in Delavan attending the Upworth League convention.

Frank Burdick of Edgerton, was a business caller here Friday.

Lyle Crandall was soon to Battle Creek, Mich., where he has a position in the chemistry laboratory at the sanitarium.

Miss Adabel Godfrey of Whitewater, is a guest of Miss Minnie Godfrey.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Ansley are moving to their cottage at Charley Bluff, Lake Koshkonong, where they will spend the summer.

Brodhead News

Brodhead, June 15.—The lighting system for the north side city park has arrived and is being installed.

There will be initiation and a picnic supper by members of the Royal Neighbors lodge this evening to which all members are invited.

A "Spring of Myrtle" will be Rev. Walter Trench Scott's theme at the M. E. church next Sunday morning. He preaches at Avon at two o'clock in the afternoon. In the evening there will be a social.

Wise Woman.

"Of course you have picked out an ideal place for your summer vacation." "Oh, yes," replied Mr. Jobson. "When do you expect to get away?" "I don't expect to get away at all." "But, you just said—?" "That I had picked out an ideal place for my summer vacation. I've decided on the same place every spring for the past seven years, but I haven't been there yet."

Forty Years Ago

The Janesville Daily Gazette, June 17, 1876.—One of the heaviest rainstorms of the season took place between five and six o'clock last night, when the rain came down in perfect torrents. The rain continued to fall at intervals all night, and began the routine early this morning.

The national game is beginning to agitate Janesville, and "out on a fly" put it to first, and "high ball if you please" will be the expressions from this time to the end of the season. The Mutuals have re-organized, and they think, with a stronger nine than they have ever had before presented.

Wanted to Buy a modern 7-room house for cash. Kemmerer & Dooley. R. C. phone 12 or R. C. 1009 Black. Old phone 69.

Bobo, The Mischievous Monk.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
STATE OF WISCONSIN.
County Court for Rock County.
In Probate.
Notice is hereby given that at a Regular Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County, at the Court House in the City of Janesville, in said County, on Tuesday, January 2, 1917, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matters will be heard, considered and adjusted:
All claims against William G. Butler, late of the Town of Harmony, in said County, deceased.
All claims must be presented for allowance to said Court at the Court House, in the City of Janesville, in said County, on or before the 6th day of December, A. D. 1916, or be barred.
Dated June 6, 1916.
By the Court:
CHARLES L. FIFIELD, County Judge.
Arthur M. Fisher, Attorney for Administrator. 6-16-16.

FOR SALE at a very reasonable price, a small, neat house of 4 rooms in good condition with two very good lots.
J. E. KENNEDY
Janesville, Wis. Sutherland Bldg.

Tobacco Plants

Hurry them along by using Nit. Soda. Makes them grow. Badger Drug Co., corner Milwaukee and River streets.

Scott & Jones

415 Hayes Bldg.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
STATE OF WISCONSIN.
County Court for Rock County.
In Probate.
Notice is hereby given that at a Regular Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County, at the Court House in the City of Janesville, in said County, on Tuesday, January 2, 1917, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matters will be heard, considered and adjusted:
All claims against William G. Butler, late of the Town of Harmony, in said County, deceased.
All claims must be presented for allowance to said Court at the Court House, in the City of Janesville, in said County, on or before the 6th day of December, A. D. 1916, or be barred.
Dated June 6, 1916.
By the Court:
CHARLES L. FIFIELD, County Judge.
Arthur M. Fisher, Attorney for Administrator. 6-16-16.

FOR SALE.

An extra good 60 acre farm 3 miles from city. Well fenced, fair buildings and soil of the very best. Also 52 acres good buildings, about 3 miles from good railroad town.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
STATE OF WISCONSIN.
County Court for Rock County.
In Probate.
Notice is hereby given that at a Regular Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County, at the Court House in the City of Janesville, in said County, on Tuesday, January 2, 1917, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matters will be heard, considered and adjusted:
All claims against William G. Butler, late of the Town of Harmony, in said County, deceased.
All claims must be presented for allowance to said Court at the Court House, in the City of Janesville, in said County, on or before the 6th day of December, A. D. 1916, or be barred.
Dated June 6, 1916.
By the Court:
CHARLES L. FIFIELD, County Judge.
Arthur M. Fisher, Attorney for Administrator. 6-16-16.

Scott & Jones

415 Hayes Bldg.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
STATE OF WISCONSIN.
County Court for Rock County.
In Probate.
Notice is hereby given that at a Regular Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County, at the Court House in the City of Janesville, in said County, on Tuesday, January 2, 1917, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matters will be heard, considered and adjusted:
All claims against William G. Butler, late of the Town of Harmony, in said County, deceased.
All claims must be presented for allowance to said Court at the Court House, in the City of Janesville, in said County, on or before the 6th day of December, A. D. 1916, or be barred.
Dated June 6, 1916.
By the Court:
CHARLES L. FIFIELD, County Judge.
Arthur M. Fisher, Attorney for Administrator. 6-16-16.

JANESVILLE TENT & AWNING CO.

Milvan Thorp, Prop.
609 Pleasant St.
Phone 1408.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
STATE OF WISCONSIN.
County Court for Rock County.
In Probate.
Notice is hereby given that at a Regular Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County, at the Court House in the City of Janesville, in said County, on Tuesday, January 2, 1917, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matters will be heard, considered and adjusted:
All claims against William G. Butler, late of the Town of Harmony, in said County, deceased.
All claims must be presented for allowance to said Court at the Court House, in the City of Janesville, in said County, on or before the 6th day of December, A. D. 1916, or be barred.
Dated June 6, 1916.
By the Court:
CHARLES L. FIFIELD, County Judge.
Arthur M. Fisher, Attorney for Administrator. 6-16-16.

Farms for Sale

In the Red River Valley of Minnesota, farms from one to three miles from a splendid town with good buildings and improvements. 160, 200 and 240 acre farms, grain, corn, clover and alfalfa land. Prices very reasonable for any of these farms. For information concerning any of the farms apply to

F. L. STEVENS,
Lovejoy, Block,
Janesville, Wis.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
STATE OF WISCONSIN.
County Court for Rock County.
In Probate.
Notice is hereby given that at a Special Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County, at the Court House in the City of Janesville, in said County, on Tuesday, January 2, 1917, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matters will be heard and considered:
The application of Wm. T. Tollefsrud to admit to Probate the Last Will and Testament of Wm. Fankhurst, late of the Town of Plymouth in said County, deceased.
Dated June 2, 1916.
By the Court:
CHARLES L. FIFIELD, County Judge.
E. H. Peterson, Attorney.

BRANCH OFFICE FOR GAZETTE AT BAKER & SON.

For the convenience of its patrons and the public generally, the Gazette has established a branch office with J. P. Baker & Son, Drug Store, corner West Milwaukee and Franklin streets.

Copy for classified advertisements, orders for papers, subscriptions and matters of this nature, as well as items of news may be left at the Baker Drug Store, and will receive the same attention as if they were sent direct to the office.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
STATE OF WISCONSIN.
County Court for Rock County.
In Probate.
Notice is hereby given that at a Special Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County, at the Court House in the City of Janesville, in said County, on Tuesday, January 2, 1917, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matters will be heard and considered:
The application of Wm. T. Tollefsrud to admit to Probate the Last Will and Testament of Wm. Fankhurst, late of the Town of Plymouth in said County, deceased.
Dated June 2, 1916.
By the Court:
CHARLES L. FIFIELD, County Judge.
E. H. Peterson, Attorney.

Hardware

YOUR KITCHEN WILL BE COOL THIS SUMMER if you use a Perfect Cook Stove. Easy payments. Talk to Lowell.

ALL KINDS of tin and sheet iron work. Expert workmen. Talk to Lowell.

PITTSBURGH ELECTRIC WELD FENCE and Chicago Steel Pests are handled by Talk to Lowell. 11-15-17.

FARMERS ATTENTION

FOR SALE—A nearly new windmill 40 ft. tower, 10 ft. head in first class condition. Will sell for $21.00. Cash or take down and remove from premises at this own risk. If you want mill here's your chance. F. A. Taylor, Janesville. 6-6-15-2-eod.

FARMER'S ATTENTION—I do drain, dig, fill and open ditch. Call or address A. L. Page, Brodhead, Wis. 6-6-15-3.

FARM IMPLEMENTS

FOR SALE—Cheap. Two Aspinwall planters. Vintage buggies. Dane hay loader and Dandee side rake. Nitcher Implement Co. 1-10-15-17.

FOR SALE—Practically new pulverizer, cheap. Rock Co. phone 722. 2-10-15-3.

HORSES AND CARRIAGES

FOR SALE—Three mares with colts, also two ponies. F. F. Rockwell, New phone 1-12-17.

CHEAP HORSES for sale. Janesville Delivery Co. 2-6-15-17.

FOR SALE—Good open buggy. Price $10. 314 Prairie Ave. 2-6-15-17.

POULTRY AND HOUSEHOLD PETS

FOR SALE—Persian kittens. 308 N. Pine St. Bell phone 1455. 12-16-17.

FOR SALE—Week old chicks, hatched by hen. Rock Co. phone 1301. White. 2-6-15-17.

AUTOMOBILES

FOR SALE—A bargain! high grade car, 5-passenger, 30 H. P. $200 quick sale. L. Dorris at Kemmerer Garage. 18-17-13.

MOTORCYCLES

MOTORCYCLES and BICYCLE REPAIRS. Knives and scissors sharpened. Sawed filed. Go-carts repaired. C. H. Cox, Corn Exchange. 3-11-20-eod-17.

FOR SALE—Cheap. 1915 three speed, electric lighted, twin cylinder Harley-Davidson motorcycle and side car. 1917 shape. Inquire at the Milwaukee Creamery Co., Plattville. B. Rabbe. 3-16-16-2.

BRADFORD

Bradford, June 16.—Earl Wetmore attended the biennial session of the Mystic Workers at Grand Rapids, Mich., this week as a delegate from the local lodge.

Mrs. W. Wilhelmson of Stillwater, Minn., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Larson.

Mrs. J. E. Duthie and daughter, Miss Margaret, attended the high school pageant in Janesville Wednesday.

Elitah and Mamie Inman were members of the graduating class at Clinton high school this year.

George E. Rorke of Camp Walton, Fla., visited friends here briefly last week before leaving for a trip to his old home in Vermont.

Mrs. George Austin and little daughter returned from Portland, Oregon, Monday, and spent Tuesday with her sister, Mrs. W. Rodanwall.

The Smith lodge, Mystic Workers, met at the home of Mrs. Duthie, here next Wednesday evening. All members should be present to hear Mr. Wetmore's report of the convention.

S. Serl of Bradford, is busy these days assisting the town of Bradford.

Miss Irene Irish and sister, Mrs. V. Morton of La Prairie, entertained the Janesville chapter of the D. A. R. at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Irish Tuesday. The weather was ideal and dinner was served at a long table in the orchard.

The home was very fittingly decorated with national colors with flags and bunting.

George Mortenson recently purchased a new car.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Henry were Janesville and Beloit visitors last Saturday.

SOUTH MAGNOLIA

South Magnolia, June 16.—Misses Agnes Harper and Janet Smith of Brodhead spent Thursday with Mrs. Chris Gempier.

Mrs. Will Nyman was an Orfordville visitor Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Lawton of Madison and Miss Ina Van Skike and Mary Van Skike called on relatives here Tuesday afternoon.

F. club last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. W. F. Mann and children are spending the week with relatives here.

Mrs. W. F. Mann and son, Willie, and Mrs. Frank Van Skike were Janesville visitors Friday.

Miss Doris Wolfe is visiting at A. V. Palmer's.

Spring time is moving time. If you have a house to rent, let it be known through a Gazette want ad.

PATENTS

SELL YOUR IDEAS

POLIPHANT & YOUNG

ATTORNEYS

MILWAUKEE, WIS. BRANCH OFFICE WASHINGTON, D.C.

E. A. Billig, Dentist

Successor to Dr. Michaelis

Bell, 816. Rock Co., 711.
14 South Main St. Janesville, Wis.

DR. EDITH BARTLETT

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON

212 Jackson Bldg.

Office hours: 1 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Office Phones: Bell, 873; R. C. Red 67.
Residence Phone, 973.

DE. JAMES MILLS

Specialist

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat

GLASSES ACCURATELY FITTED.

N. L. SAGE, M. D.

OSTEOPATH

FT. ATKINSON, WIS.

Office hours: 8 A. M. to 2 P. M.
Sundays and other times by appointment.

Dr. SCHWEGLER

OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

Former Professor of Obstetrics at Kansas City Osteopathic College.

403 Jackson Block.

Phones—Office: R. C. Black 224; Bell, 675. Residence: R. C. 1321.

RICHARD S. C. CALDWELL

PATENTS

Trade Marks and Copyrights

Grand 2005. 315 Majestic Bldg. Milwaukee.

Stop Beating Your Rugs

Try one of our new Vacuum Sweepers for ten days.

PRICE, $5.50

EASY PAYMENTS.

Talk to Lowell

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
STATE OF WISCONSIN.
County Court for Rock County.
In Probate.
Notice is hereby given that at a Regular Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County, at the Court House in the City of Janesville, in said County, on Tuesday, January 2, 1917, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matters will be heard, considered and adjusted:
All claims against William G. Butler, late of the Town of Harmony, in said County, deceased.
All claims must be presented for allowance to said Court at the Court House, in the City of Janesville, in said County, on or before the 6th day of December, A. D. 1916, or be barred.
Dated June 6, 1916.
By the Court:
CHARLES L. FIFIELD, County Judge.
Arthur M. Fisher, Attorney for Administrator. 6-16-16.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
STATE OF WISCONSIN.
County Court for Rock County.
In Probate.
Notice is hereby given that at a Regular Term of the County Court to be held in and for said County, at the Court House in the City of Janesville, in said County, on Tuesday, January 2, 1917, at 9 o'clock a. m., the following matters will be heard, considered and adjusted:
All claims against William G. Butler, late of the Town of Harmony, in said County, deceased.
All claims must be presented for allowance to said Court at the Court House, in the City of Janesville, in said County, on or before the 6th day of December, A. D. 1916, or be barred.
Dated June 6, 1916.
By the Court:
CHARLES L. FIFIELD, County Judge.
Arthur M. Fisher, Attorney for Administrator. 6-16-16.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
STATE OF WISCONSIN.
County Court for Rock County.
In Probate.
Notice is hereby

Homes of Character

PART OF YOUR LIFE

A Good Piece of Furniture is PART OF YOUR LIFE

You see it every day. It enters into YOUR THOUGHTS. It unconsciously moulds YOUR CHARACTER.

Get furniture that SUITS you. Your table, chair or bookcase ought to EXPRESS YOUR PERSONALITY.

Get furniture that will speak to you daily and be to you a constant COMFORT AND INSPIRATION. You know it can be found at FRANK D.

KIMBALL

MOVED

Hilton & Sadler, the architects have moved their offices to No. 23 West Milwaukee St., 2nd floor, over Pond & Bailey's, where they will be pleased to meet their friends and patrons. The rooms we now occupy are better suited to our work and we are in a position to give our clients even better service than ever before.

SELECT YOUR LOT FROM KENNEDY'S LIST

I have lots listed with me at prices ranging from $100 to $1700 and which include some of the best lots in the city. Call and see me before you buy your lot. I can save you money.

J. E. KENNEDY

9 W. Milwaukee St., Sutherland Bldg.

Both phones.

JOBS COMPLETED THIS YEAR

Gossard Corset factory, remodeling. Remodeling for Peter Collins, country. Remodeling for H. F. Keller, North High St. Porch for Mr. Grieger, Academy St. Under construction, residence for A. C. Thorpe, Milwaukee Ave. Austin residence and barn for Geo. M. Austin, Terrace and Ravine Sts. Contract signed for residence for Mrs. W. W. Lindsay, Mineral Point Ave. and Palm St.

E. E. VAN POOL

17 NORTH RIVER ST.

BOTH PHONES

For Electric Fixtures and Wiring

See Albrecht and get the very best service at a very moderate price.

F. A. ALBRECHT

"A Little Shop Offering Intelligent Service."

Electric Wiring and Fixtures. 58 S. Main St. Both Phones

"ROGERS"

Paints and Varnishes

This famous line of paints and varnishes is your absolute protection for uniformity of quality. Being machine made from time-tried and tested formulas, of chemically pure and uniform raw materials, mixed and ground by powerful machinery, Rogers Paints are dependable and bound to give you satisfaction.

FRANK DOUGLAS

15-17 South River Street.

THE PLUMBING PROBLEM SOLVED

Is easily solved by letting your contract to McVicar Bros. We have for years solved the plumbing problems for home builders in Janesville and have never had a complaint. Expert advice and expert work for the same price that others charge. Let us tell you about our modern plumbing service.

McVICAR BROTHERS

31 So. Main Street.

Janesville, Wis.

Both Phones.

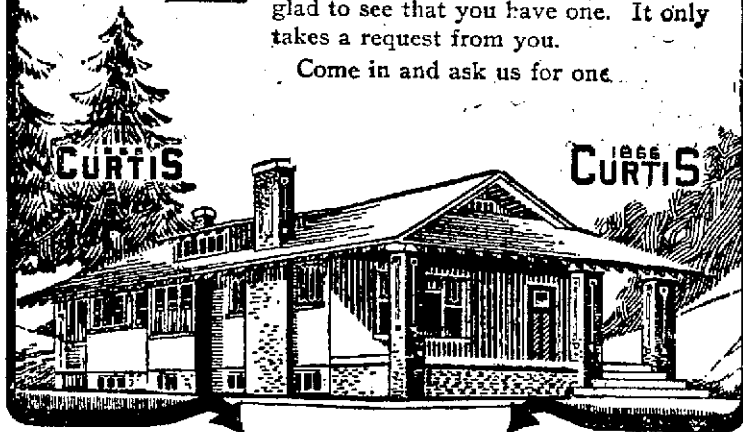

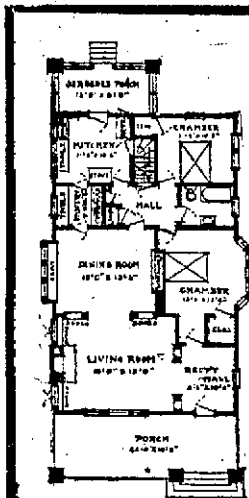

A Practical Book FREE

Planning a home is such a big problem, you cannot afford to do without the help we can give.

You will find "Attractive Bungalows" a beautiful little book filled with illustrations showing floor plans, interior and exterior views of homes that have been built.

Wouldn't you like to have one to look over in the evenings when planning your home? We shall be very glad to see that you have one. It only takes a request from you.

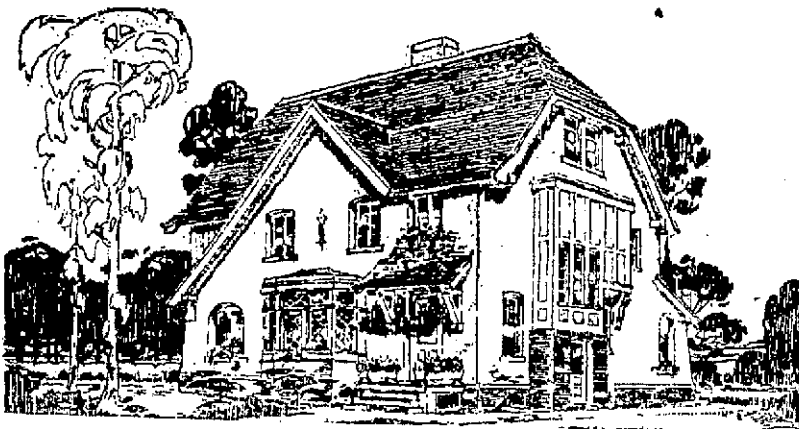

Come in and ask us for one.

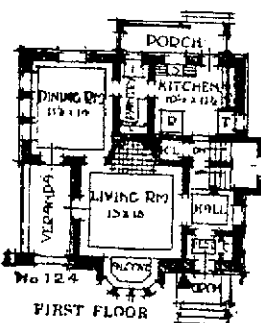

FIFIELD LUMBER COMPANY

A Modern German Type—By John Henry Newson

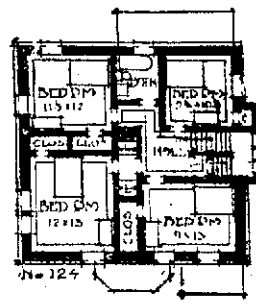

Home of Character No. 106

This is a type of cement house having the feeling of modern German work. The absence of the porch, the bay window on the center of the gable in the front, and the treatment of the stair bay give this house the character and snap which has made it so popular with our friends. The walls being buff colored with the exterior woodwork stained brown and sash painted white, together with the green slate roof and the red brick foundation, compose a color scheme which is enlivened by a touch of brilliant color in the flower box

FIRST FLOOR

SECOND FLOOR

over the hood and also in the flower boxes at each side of the entrance stoop.

A little study of the plan will show how thoroughly everything that goes to make an artistic home has been worked out. Attention is called to the veranda opening off the dining room as well as the living room. The second floor has four bedrooms, each with ample closet, linen closet, bathroom, a well-lighted hall and stairway to attic. The basement extends under the entire house and is reached from the grade entrance landing under the main stairs and from the kitchen, or through the hall from the living room. Sufficient space to be finished off as a billiard room or divided into additional bedrooms is provided in the attic.

Cost $5400. Can be built for from $4100 to $6000.

Any Gazette reader intending to build a home in the near future and desiring further information concerning this or any other "Home of Character" should take advantage of the special service Mr. Newson is prepared to render Gazette readers without charge to them. Always give the number of the home and mention the Gazette when making an inquiry, which should be addressed to John Henry Newson, "Homes of Character" Dept., The Gazette.

IN THE KITCHEN OF YOUR NEW HOME

A single inverted gas light suspended from the centre of the ceiling provides general illumination.

In a large kitchen it is also well to install one or more side wall brackets, so arranged as to provide special illumination.

Convenient gas outlets should also be installed for the use of the following gas appliances:—

GAS RANGE, TANK WATER
HEATER, REFUSE DESTROYER,

GAS IRON, WATER STERILIZER,
GASTHEAT RADIATOR.

Call at our office or send for a representative.

New Gas Light Co. of Janesville

7 North Main St.

Both Phones 113.

The Wonder of the Age ELECTRICITY Is Within Your Reach

Electric wiring is a small expense, but it should be done right. There are established rules and inspected materials for this work. Appliances of all kinds for your comfort and help. We guarantee our work against defect.

Let Us Figure On Your Electric
Work When You Come To Build

Janesville Contracting Company

Office At Electric Co.

Plumbing of the Highest Grade

We are never satisfied with our work unless it is perfect, in fact we will not leave a job until YOU are absolutely satisfied that it is as you would have it.

Our knowledge and suggestions will be a great help to you when you are ready to build.

GEORGE & CLEMONS

Plumbing, Gas and Steam Fitting.
407 West Milwaukee Street.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

BEAUTIFY YOUR HOME with

Whittall Rugs

Carpets, Linoleums, Draperies
The House of a Thousand
Room Size Rugs

Make Your Garden Glad

Beautify your home with hardy ornamental shrubs, perennials, etc.

The money invested in beautifying your home grounds will more than pay you for the pleasure that you will derive and the improvement to your property.

JANESVILLE FLORAL CO.

50 South Main St. Edw. Amerpohl, Prop. Both phones.

MOVED

E. H. PELTON

is now located at 17 Court St.

Near the bridge.

All kinds of tin and sheet metal work. Prompt attention to repairs. Guaranteed work.

Come In and See Our Book of Home Plans

This book contains highly interesting information for the prospective home builder.

And when you are ready to build we can supply all the materials at prices that are right.

Schaller & McKey Lumber Co.

Corner Milwaukee and Pleasant Sts.

Both Phones, 100.